Council looking at establishing harness horse racing track

Minden - Anson, Hindon and Minden council is looking into the possibility of having a harness horse racing track and grandstand installed at the Minden Fairgrounds, the site of the Haliburton County Fair.

Reeve, Reg Booth, told The Echo and Recorder that the council spent a great deal of time at its regular meeting last Wednesday discussing various plans for the track.

He said the track would likely be one half mile and would conform to the rules of harness racing. He noted that it would be installed at the park for the County of Haliburton.

Reeve Booth said plans for the track have been going on for about a year, but it is still in the discussion stage. He said that there is no way the cost of such a project could be estimated at this time.

Reeve Booth said there are two possible locations for the track in the park, one being in the area of the present small track running near the curling rink.

He said that the grandstand which has been suggested is designed to give spectators a view of the track from one side and the tennis courts and proposed lawn bowling green on the other side.

The Reeve said that the project would be done in conjunction with the Minden Fair Board and that there is a possibility that at least half of the funds required for the project would come from the provincial government.

The proposed lawn bowling facilities were also discussed at the meeting.

Reeve Booth said that the facilities will be installed at the park through a program of the Minden Rotary Club if the project is approved.

The park presently is the site of the Minden Curling Club, the Minden Arena, tennis courts and a softball diamond.

$800 damage in single car crash

Minden - There was $800 damage in a single car accident on Elephant Lake Road, Nov. 4, at 4:15 p.m.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that a car driven by Janet Simard, 29, of McArthur Mills, was southbound on the road when it went into the east ditch rolling over.

She has been charged with careless driving.

An accident on Highway 530 east of Maple Lake, Nov. 3, resulted in $400 damage to a car driven by Peter J. Thompson, 18, of R.R. 1, Haliburton.

The OPP report that the vehicle was rounding a curve and slid into a ditch.

The accident took place at 11:15 p.m.

The Goblin Parade, put on by the drama club of the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School. The students in the play were in grades four, five and six. Pictured are, laying down Melissa Emmerton, front

Deputy-clerk appointed Minden's clerk-treasurer

Minden - Anson, Hindon and Minden council agreed

78 general occurrences investigated

Minden - Members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigated 78 general occurrences and five motor vehicle accidents during the week of Oct. 31 to Nov. 7.

There were seven break-ins investigated, two compassionate messages delivered, six persons charged with liquor violations and two persons charged with impaired driving.

unanimously last week to promote Elinor Burke to the position of clerk-treasurer in the municipality.

She has served the past four years as deputy-clerk in Anson, Hindon and Minden.

The process of finding a new clerk was a long one according to Reeve, Reg Booth. He said that the council had a number of meetings looking for a replacement for Richard Parisotto before coming up with a decision.

Mr. Parisotto recently took a position with the Town of Ajax as deputy clerk in that municipality.

Reeve Booth said that Mrs. Burke knows the procedures followed by the municipality because of the four years she has spent in Anson, Hindon and Minden and she is very capable.

"I am satisfied that she will do a good job," Reeve Booth said.

As well as her four years experience with the muni-city, Mrs. Burke was also clerk of Lutterworth Township for 7½ years. She has been acting clerk in Minden since Mr. Parisotto left Oct. 14.

Beverly Millar, clerk-treasurer of Lutterworth Township, will take the position of deputy clerk-treasurer in Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Lutterworth is presently advertising for a new clerk.

Damage done to community centre in Dysart

Haliburton - Persons causing damage to the Dysart Community Centre just may not be admitted to the building this winter.

Don Lloyd, chairman of the recreation committee, which handles the building, said that the damages caused by a number of people is just getting too costly.

Mr. Lloyd said that last weekend the sink was ripped right off the wall in one of the washrooms.

He said that the little things that have been done to the arena are adding up. He said it seemed to start when somebody smashed part of the new Zamboni ice making machine.

He admitted that they have a good idea who is doing the damage to the building and if it continues they will be putting some people out and not letting them back into the arena for the remainder of the winter.

"We hate to kick them out of the arena but it might be necessary," Mr. Lloyd said.

The arena has recently gone through a major renovation program which included repairs to a number of areas that have already been damaged.

Remembrance Day Service

On Friday morning, Nov. 11, at the hour of 10 a.m., in the Royal Canadian Legion Auditorium, a service of Remembrance will be held to pay tribute to those brave men who laid down their lives making it possible for us to live in peace and comfort in the finest land under the sun.

Is it asking too much of the citizens of this area to pause on Friday morning for an hour to participate in this act of Remembrance?

Following the service at the Legion a parade led by the Haliburton Legion Pipe and Drums will make its way to the Cenotaph on Highland Street for the laying of the wreaths and the act of Remembrance at 11 a.m. Everyone is invited to take part in these services.

In the evening a Remembrance Day dinner will be held in the Royal Canadian Legion for Legionnaires and their wives and/or friends.

Four-year-old youngster drowns in South Lake

Minden - A four-year-old Minden area youngster is dead as the result of a drowning incident in South Lake, Nov. 3.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that David Michael Kraemer, son of Peter Nicholas Kraemer of R.R. 1, Minden, was found in about four feet of water at about 1:30 p.m.

The police report stated that the youngster, along with his three-year-old brother Robbie, and a friend, Linda Lise, were playing and wandered to the water's edge. The two younger children returned to the Lise residence and when questioned as to the location of David said that he was in the water.

Shirley Lise went to the water and located the youngster. She applied artificial respiration to no avail.

Coroner in the case is Dr. Harry Good of Haliburton. There will be no inquest or post mortem.

Police investigate break-in Minden - Members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police are investigating the theft of $2,913 worth of merchandise from a Wenona Lake Cottage between Oct. 11 and Nov. 4.

The merchandise stolen included CB equipment, a stereo, television, sewing machine, camera, power tools, fishing equipment and liquor.

The cottage is owned by Anthony C. Legraw, 33, of Toronto. There was $10 damage to a door as well.

Miles Maughan, goaltender for the Haliburton Huskies, found the action around his net a little hectic Friday night when the Huskies lost 7-3 to Bancroft Jets.

For more information on the game see County Echo Sports and for a rundown on the Huskies players for the 1977-78 season, see the special Huskies section.

No, this isn't the biggest traffic accident in the history of Haliburton County. This is just part of the large pile of cars collected around Dysart et al under a provincial derelict car program grant. The cars have been put in a special area at a municipal dump.

The local branch of the Evangelical Fellowship of Canada held its annual banquet last week at the Haliburton Legion. Guest speaker for the event was

Mr. Arthur Taylor of the Welland Canal Mission. Special music was supplied by Old-Timers Ladies Trio.

Report from Ottawa

BY MP BILL SCOTT

On Friday, Nov. 11, Canadians from one end of our great country to the other will join together to observe Remembrance Day. It will be the 59th anniversary of the Armistice that signalled the end of World War One.

In the beginning Remembrance Day was set aside each year to honor the dead of that first great war. This has since been broadened to embrace the dead and the survivors of all of Canada's Wars, from the South African Campaign to the Korean Conflict.

Since the beginning of the century more than 100,000 Canadians have given their lives in our wars. With all the pomp and ceremony that attends Remembrance Day, and other observances of our war dead, it might appear to some that we are glorifying war itself, but nothing could be further from the truth.

In the first place, Canada has never instigated any of the wars in which we have participated, nor have we ever been the instrument of starting or prolonging a war. However, even though we have been geographically remote from the scene of all our wars, we owe our very freedom and our security to the bravery and the sacrifices of Canada's warriors.

Whenever our soldiers, sailors and airmen have gone abroad to fight, it has been in the defence of free nations, to repel invaders and to restore lawful governments to those countries.

And so, it is to honor our warriors, not our wars, that we observe Remembrance Day.

Today, the memory of those generations of warriors has been kept alive and fresh largely through the efforts of veterans organizations, principally the largest and best known among them, the Royal Canadian Legion.

Through the years the 1800 Legion branches across the country have initiated action to have monuments erected in towns, villages and hamlets throughout the country. They have established community projects such as scholarships, parks, athletic events and other non-profit projects to generate awareness in our young people of the sacrifices of their fathers and grandfathers.

Remembrance Day observances are conducted in a manner that would please those brave Canadians who

AN ODE TO PROGRESS

Does anyone remember when Minden was a quiet town?
Now all this noise and uproar has really got me down.
First it was the sewers, and dust polluting the air,
But when we phoned about it, no one seemed to care.
And now the roadwork has started,
And a motor runs all night,
But it doesn't spoil our government's sleep,
So I guess they think it's alright.
It seems that what they call progress,
Is to demolish houses and trees.
They never ask what the people think,
Just do whatever they please.
It seems to me that every day,
The world becomes less caring,
What has become of the good old days
When people thought of sharing.
I hope when we get to Heaven,
And the Lord himself is near,
We'll all forget the troubles we had
While living down here.

From the Chamber

BY BOB STINSON

Editor's Note: The following editorial is written by Victor Godin, and is reprinted from Exchange Magazine, published by the Ontario Chamber.

A business colleague recently confided that one of his greatest disappointments was the inability of his subordinates to summarize a problem, in writing, briefly and concisely. "I ask for a progress report on a new program and I get a 60 page thesis which I end up summarizing to two pages for the Vice-President," he complained.

The problem is not peculiar to business. Many government policies which can be expressed in two sentences start out as thick tomes compiled by obscure teams of civil servants and the process is going on at this very moment in virtually every Ministry.

When this mass of information finally emerges, as a Government Bill reduced to 10 pages, great thick briefs come in from all affected interest groups and these are in turn reduced to two pages for the Minister by the same civil servants who wrote the tomes referred to earlier.

In a way, the entire system conspires to create this mass of verbage. When exams were taken out of the school system, they were replaced by term papers. Instead of a tight answer being written against the clock, teachers get pages, often filled with direct quotations to fill space. Later on, almost every aspect of the working world is minutely examined in seminars, workshops and symposiums with all of the attendant kits studies and paperwork.

Language, as an art of science, is unique in that it becomes more cumbersome with the passage of time, as more words are added. The complete works of Shakespeare were written with just 1,800 different words and today there are almost 700,000 words in the English language. All of which makes it easier to make a little sound like a lot, when we should be saying a lot by using very little.

Reg Booth, Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, was on hand recently to congratulate Elinor Burke on her appointment to the position of clerk in the municipality. For the past four years Mrs. Burke has been deputy clerk in the municipality and was appointed clerk at last week's council meeting to replace Richard Parisotto.

Remembering Lyle Nelson

BY NILA REYNOLDS

For survivors of the World Wars and the Korean Conflict the Bugles of November call up the past, summons again sons and daughters, husbands, brothers and friends so well loved, but lost. As they march before the eye of memory, old wounds closed "Lang Syne" by a scar tissue of years, bleed afresh. The approaching eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month ever haunts with laments for what might have been had they come home.

They were so young, our bravest and our best. Our world needed what they, in the abundance of their youth had to give - ideas, talents, skills and energy. Selflessly they made of themselves a sacrificial libation; 62,374 on battlegrounds of World War I, 62,020 in World War II. For them bloom the poppies, but the shattered lives, the aching voids of loneliness they left behind are ever with us. An accounting of such sorrow boggles the mind; a single casualty lends perspective.

Lyle J. Nelson came to us, the Intermediate Room of S.S. #2 and 3 Guilford (Haliburton County), in September of 1939, days after Hitler invaded Poland. In his twenties, and personable as actor Alan Ladd whom he resembled, he was part of the educational bonanza the depression wafted to Ontario's Central Highlands - teachers qualified for more attractive positions than an isolated rural community with widely scattered farms and the homes of sawmill and bush workers centering about post office, school and store.

After a shake-down in which we tested his metal and he took our measure, we embarked on two years of unadulterated joy. Blessed with a saving-grace sense of humor, and an ardent naturalist, he showed us wonders overlooked - an ethereal luna moth, the lumbering house-building caddis worm. When the snow came his gliding skis cut patterns across the hills which inspired a community of young people to take up the sport with him.

In all he did he commanded our best; lighting candles in the eyes of a bored child, fostering special talents, seeding dreams which might someday blossom gloriously. Each pupil treasures memories unforgettable - the puppet play we built, scripted and performed, the Intermediate Choir excelling at the County Music Festival, a Christmas Concert, Fall Activity Day, a nature hike or "Penrod" read an ad afternoon hour test. One girl remembers his hands, always well kept in a world where men's hands were toil scarred and calloused.

He won my heart with his extensive knowledge of literature in general, poetry in particular and encouraged adolescent attempts to write both. My tangible souvenir of days with him is a page from an autograph album with a verse from "Life's Glories and How To Keep Them," an ironic choice for a man with but 4 years to live.

The spring of 1941 brought him a chance to be principal of the County Town's Public School at Minden. He took it, but not before stage managing an outdoor concert to raise funds for a school piano (still in use at the West Guilford Recreation Centre). With Junior Room Teacher Margaret Phillips, he stole the show by circling the ball diamond in Gay Nineties costume, on a bicycle built for two while we sang "Daisy Bell."

We never saw him again. He left Minden to join the Royal Canadian Airforce and in 1944 was shot down (local rumor had it on his first combat mission).

How little pupils know of a teacher's personal life! Lyle Nelson came from Sprucedale, Ont. He married teacher Alma Parsons of Orangeville before posting overseas; he had sisters whose married names are unknown. By the time I tried to learn more of his background the trail was cold. Lately I, and others he taught, have wished to correspond with his family. Perhaps it would temper their grief just a little if they understood how important he was to his classes, to the community, to a girl who dreamed of being a writer - if they knew he was remembered with love.

Tennyson's "The Bugler" was the last poem studied and memorized together. He divided the class into three parts and read it with an antiphonal chorus. Its closing stanza is both tribute and epitaph for the men of this century who, like Lyle J. Nelson, offered themselves on the altar of sacrifice:

O love they die in yon rich sky,
They faint on hill or field or river;
Your echoes roll from soul to soul,
And grow forever and forever.
Blow, bugle blow, set the wild echoes flying
And answer, echoes, answer, dying, dying, dying.

Club manager

Minden - K. A. Fielding has been appointed manager of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Club.

A news release from the club states, "The Haliburton County Snowmobile Club has expanded since its inception some six years ago to the point where volunteer efforts could not cope with the many responsibilities involved with the administration of such a large club. The club is now the largest in Ontario, having the greatest number of members registered with the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs."

According to the release the manager's position was created to better serve the needs of the snowmobiler in Haliburton County.

"His duties will include general administrative duties, property research, grant applications and administration, and financial management," it says in the release.

The office is located in the Chamber of Commerce bldg. on Highway 35 in Minden.

Darlene Freeman and Lynn Finlay, both grade 13 students at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, were on hand for the Hallowe'en Gala Whale of a Sale, to help support the school's Glee Club. The sale was held at Steinberg's Fruit Market on Saturday.

Car is stolen

Haliburton - The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police have charged three persons in connection with the theft of an automobile.

The police stated that a car owned by Kleo Hodgson, of Haliburton, was taken from his residence and driven to Lindsay where it was recovered.

Energy is discussed at college

"I have maintained for some time that the energy crisis is real. However, we do not have any energy resource crisis but we do have an energy conversion crisis," Atomic Energy of Canada Vice President R.G. Hart told an energy symposium at Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Mr. Hart divided his remarks in four parts. In the first part he dealt with the "truisms" of energy supply. In the second he considered which energy resources are likely to have an ephemeral existence and which are likely to be able to meet our needs for a long time to come. He concentrated on energy utilization in the third part, and in the fourth he dwelt on costs.

Pointing out that the energy crisis is real, Mr. Hart stressed that the real crisis is an energy conversion crisis. He said the crisis results from an imminent decline in the availability of domestic oil and natural gas, and the steady increase in the price of foreign imports. He said that in the longer term we face an inevitable depletion of the world's resources of oil and gas and alternatives, such as recovering oil from the tar sands and bringing gas from the Arctic, will take time and some will be costly.

Mr. Hart said now the popular theme is that we don't need either coal or nuclear fuel, solar and wind ered. The OPP report that Scott E. McColman, 16, now of Sudbury, and two juveniles, all three residents of the Hardy Group Home, have been charged with theft over $200. The incident took place November 1.

Charged with driving offenses

Haliburton - Angus G. MacInnes, 37, of Haliburton, has been charged with two criminal code offenses and two highway traffic act offenses as the result of an incident Saturday at 11:30 p.m. in Haliburton Village.

The OPP report that a car was stopped for speeding in a 50 km/h zone. The driver then accelerated away from the cruiser and Const. Jim Martin of the OPP followed the car home.

MacInnes has been charged with dangerous driving, obstructing a police officer, careless driving and speeding.

Tour follows Highway 35 and County Road 2

Little Gull Lake has received a great deal of publicity in the past couple of weeks. The lake was poisoned by the Ministry of Natural Resources to kill the fish and will be stocked with rainbow trout in the spring. The lake can be found on County Road 2.

Highway 35 south of Minden features a number of small lakes and ponds which the road travels around. This week's route starts in Minden and travels around Highway 35 and County Road 2. The trip covers a great deal of the southwestern portion of the county.

Editor's Note: This is the sixth part in a series of tours of Haliburton County. This week's tour covers the area south of the Village of Minden.

Minden is the starting point for this week's journey in Haliburton County.

We started the tour at the bridge in downtown Minden, crossed the bridge and turned left onto Orde Street or as the sign says, County Road 2.

For newcomers to the area, County Road 2 will be a little bit of a surprise, at least the first half of it. The road, although not a major highway is for a few miles flat, smooth and straight.

It then turns into the usual winding Haliburton Road but is still smooth as it heads towards Moore Falls.

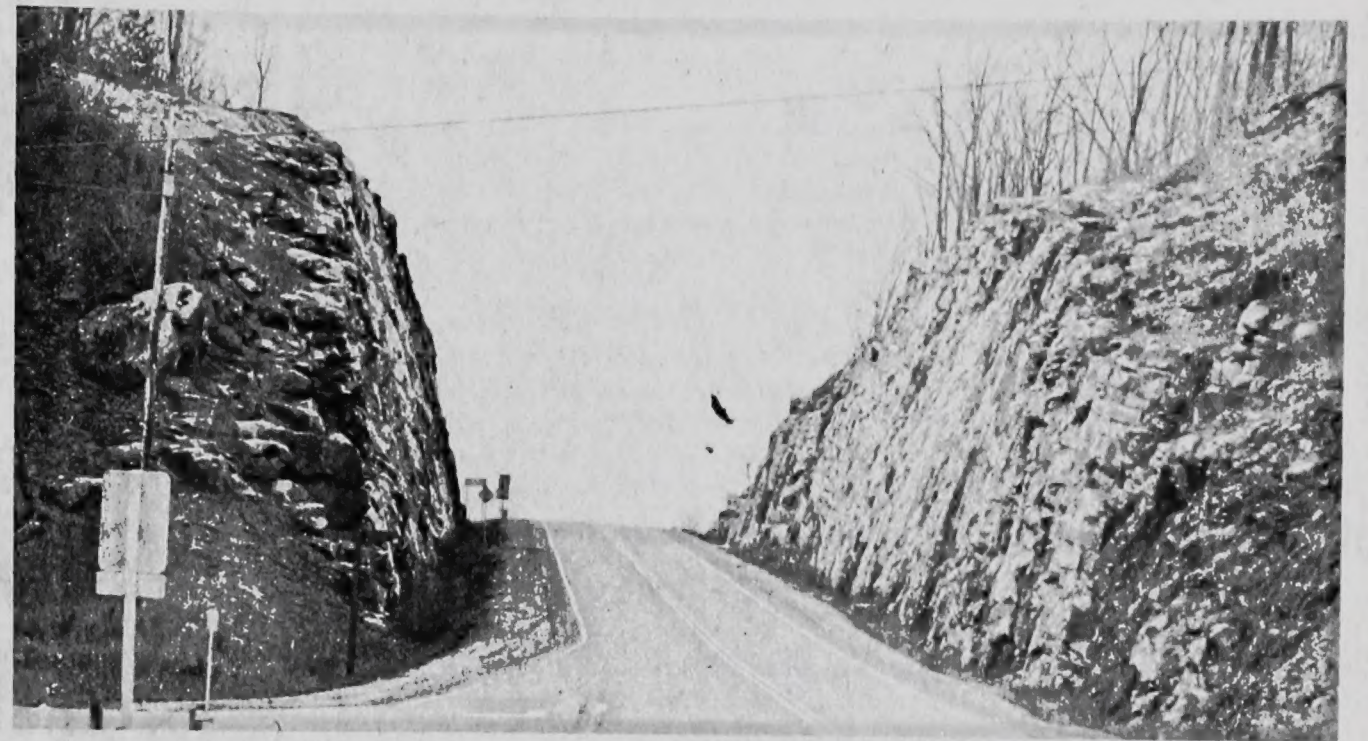

The route this week travels a circle and extends from Minden to Moore Falls, near the south end of the county and back up to Minden by way of County Road 2 and Highway 35.

One of the main features of this week's tour is that it can be completed in a very short time for those of us who are always in a hurry.

Highway 35 south of Minden has long been well known for its scenery as it winds its way through places like Miner's Bay. In recent years the direction of the highway was changed somewhat and made a great deal straighter.

For those of us who feel adventurous though, there are still pieces of the old road to travel on and marvel at how the cottagers in the Highlands travelled just a couple of years ago.

County Road 2 (Orde Street in Minden) and Highway 35 provide an interesting circular tour that a person can drive in a short time. Among the many sites along the route is this rock cut at Miner's Bay. The rock cut was made when the highway was changed a few years ago.

Moore Falls provides some interesting scenery on Highway 35. Moore Falls is located near the intersection of the county road and the highway near the southern border of Haliburton County. This week's tour can be covered in a short time.

The Poppy, from forgetfulness to remembrance

The Poppy is one of the oldest of all flowers, as it dates back to the early ages.

In the legends of ancient China, and even almost up to modern times, the Poppy was known as the Flower of Forgetfulness because of the fact that the opium which was distilled from the Poppy caused sleep to those who used it, and consequently forgetfulness of all that one might want to remember.

This meaning was continued, not only in China but throughout other parts of the world, until about the time of the Napoleonic Wars when some observant person and writer noted the fact that on the field where battles had been fought, which were unproductive and were bare waste before the conflict, after the battle, and the burying of the youths on the field, these waste places blossomed forth into vast seas of the scarlet blossoms of the Poppy.

This botanical phenomenon was very obvious at Waterloo. Also at Dettigen and other battle fields.

Notwithstanding the fact that professors and students of botany visited these battle fields and attempted to solve the mystery of the phenomenon, yet even today, no one can account for something which is definitely defined fact - that POPPIES GROW IN PROFUSION on battle fields where before these fields were more or less desert with no grass or weeds growing.

During the Great War many of the veterans of the conflict had an ample opportunity of seeing for themselves how Poppies grow in fields following the great battles, and it would appear that these battle fields and Poppies contained therein have set themselves the task of making the Poppy the "FLOWER OF REMEMBRANCE" which is thought of today quite exclusive of that old thought that the Poppy was the Flower of Forgetfulness.

Work on arenas has been worth it

Most of the repairs and improvements are completed at the Dysart Community Centre. The visible improvements are in the arena section and are something that those who donated to the cause can be proud of.

The new Zamboni does an excellent job on the ice and appears to be money well spent. The glass around the playing surface is already serving its purpose, protecting fans and keeping the puck in play. The fiberglass on the boards is very attractive, and no doubt, in the long run will save a great deal of maintenance at the rink.

Most of all though is that the arena has been brought up to a standard that would make everyone feel is safe. The provincial government, especially the Ministry of Labor, has come under a great deal of criticism over its tough policies on arenas and similar buildings.

For some municipalities the cost seemed to be prohibitive in making the repairs or even replacements for the buildings. In Haliburton County, though, the Dysart Arena has been brought up to standard and the people of Dysart are well on their way to building a new rink.

These repairs and the new construction certainly was costly but now that everything is close to being done, somehow it all seems worth it.

This coming Friday is Remembrance Day. The service will be held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, in Haliburton, at 10:00 a.m., with the parade to the Cenotaph for laying of wreaths and memorial at 11:00 a.m. Make it a point now to attend the service and help pay tribute to those brave men who laid down their lives making it possible for us to live in peace and comfort in the finest land under the sun. Students will be away from their classrooms on Remembrance Day and we hope that many of them will attend the service both at the Legion Hall and at the Cenotaph. For many of our young people they don't know what Remembrance Day is all about. As parents and as teachers it is our responsibility to explain it to them.

If you are one of the thousands of Canadians who drove to work this morning on congested roads or streets, you made the most important decision of your day. Some of those decisions may well have made the difference between life and death for yourself or for others. Did you really think about them or were they made by instinct alone? Were you qualified to make them at all? As drivers we face the constant necessity of making a series of vital decisions that affect the well being of ourselves and others. We are responsible for their results. Thus, it is our duty to keep our driving habits and skills under constant review so that the driving choices we make will be those of a responsible and concerned safety conscious citizen.

sometimes I think that we take the Haliburton Health Unit too much for granted. They are doing a splendid job in the area of health and the various clinics held there and in other parts of the county are in the best interests of our health.

Possibly we have come to the point that Hallowe'en night is really for the kids. This year, for a change, the weather was just ideal for the children to go around to the various houses to trick or treat. Usually it's either snowing or raining on Hallowe'en night. In past years Hallowe'en was a night for plenty of vandalism but this year, from all reports, there was very little damage done and this is just the way it should be. Maybe things really are changing.

During the past several weeks the business establishments in Haliburton have been hit by vandalism and break-ins. It would appear that we seem to have one each and every night. It's really not that bad, but it has come to the point that one wonders who will be next. The businessmen are becoming quite upset over the situation and you can't blame them. When a business is broken into and merchandise and cash are stolen, it takes a large number of sales to get this money back. Possibly the answer is to have a full time policeman on duty from midnight to possibly six or seven in the morning. At the present time there is no police protection after 3 a.m. It would appear to us that those who are thinking of causing damage or breaking in feel that they have a clear field to work in.

Following the installation of a sanitary sewer system in the Village of Minden, the council are going ahead and re-paving many of the roads in the village. We also notice that new sidewalks in various parts of Minden are now becoming a reality.

The Meryl Dolan Crusade just held recently in Harcourt and Wilberforce was a great success, with large crowds on most nights and with the result that through this crusade many people came to the Lord.

We have been asked by several people in the last few weeks just when we can expect the new industry proposed for the industrial site between Donald and Lochlin to begin. In talking with some of the local politicians and our MPP, we understand that everything seems to be going ahead as scheduled and that a start will be made in the spring.

You have all heard the song "Are you Lonesome Tonight." Well, here in Haliburton County there are a lot of people who are lonely, others are burdened with problems, while others just need someone to talk over their troubles with. In this day and age all of us, it would appear, hardly have time to stop and say hello or have a friendly chat. What a great feeling we would all have if we would just take the time to go and talk to these people and try to make their daily lives

by Jim Badgley

Anson, Hindon and Minden council may have hit upon a winning scheme with the talk of having a harness racing track installed at the fair grounds.

The track would be good for the entire county. Harness racing has long been a source of entertainment in a number of smaller centres in Ontario and what small area would be more suited than a tourist area.

First of all the racing would bring the horsemen to the county, who no doubt must spend some money. It also would bring in a new group of tourists to add to the economy of the area.

A harness track in Minden would also provide entertainment for the local people and the summer residents of the county.

Many an enjoyable summer Friday or Saturday night could be spent at the track.

Something that would also be provided by the track would be a number of jobs for local residents. For those who doubt that there are jobs available, take a trip to one of the B circuit racing tracks in Ontario and look at the people it takes to make sure a racing day goes smoothly.

By creating jobs, even though most are of a part time nature, the local merchants would undoubtedly get a boost in the number of products they sell.

There are other benefits that the area would receive from having the modern track.

The proposed grandstand would be an excellent place to view the happenings at the annual Haliburton County Fair. No doubt that the Minden Agricultural Society and its branch, the Haliburton County Fair Board, could put such a grandstand to good use.

Horse racing is tourist oriented and what better place to put such a facility than in a tourist oriented area.

Surprisingly enough, in both Minden and Haliburton, I keep running into people who didn't want and still don't want sewers and water.

I cannot understand why anyone would want to rely on their septic tank and well if it would be possible to hook into a municipal supply.

Having water and sewers may be a sign of progress that is not wanted by some, but for most people and municipalities it is a sign of survival that has to be done.

I agree with comments made by Reg Booth, Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, that the municipal council should have control of the business of the municipality.

Mr. Booth was commenting on the hiring of a new clerk in Anson, Hindon and Minden at the time.

Employees of government have an important job to do but members of council and parliament are elected to serve the people, which means their job is to run the municipality, province or country.

As others see it

Next to the family, the community is the most important centre of activities that make life human, civilized and cultured. No other environment contributes so significantly to nourish the values of life.

Governments on all levels are learning this by the failure of their efforts to impose neighborhood redevelopment programs without consulting and involving the people who live there. Community work satisfies the desire to contribute to humanity; it gives a person something to do that is worth while; it provides fellowship.

If a person is to have dignity, he must make his contribution to life. It is in the community that man feels what he is and has a chance to become what he can be. Through association with others in church, school, club and recreation, the individual gets a sense of status and a sense of social acceptance and support.

People do not become part of a community merely by being together, but rather by sharing interests and engaging in activities to further the welfare of the group. The strongest bond between people is the feeling of having common problems, common values and common hopes.

Community work is self-developing. It is more than merely sending a cheque. We seek the respect of the society in which we live. Mutual tolerance and co-operation will lead to the point when you call your neighbor "friend" and that means much to both of you. Membership in the community comes from a conscious sense of "belonging."

By belonging, we accept certain responsibilities for constructive contribution. The good citizen will shape his community by working with other citizens. Then problems get solved, wrongs are righted, the beauty and spirit of the community is enhanced.

From the Ridgetown Dominion

The recent revelations in the house of commons by solicitor general Francis Fox about the RCMP's activities have caused an uproar that isn't likely to die down for a long time to come.

Members of the opposition parties, and the reporters covering the government's activities, have charged that the affair is Canada's Watergate. That may be a convenient term, but is surely over dramatic. The affair isn't a Watergate. It isn't evidence of the kind of corruption that destroyed the Nixon presidency, and made it forever an example of the misuse of great power. But the affair does point clearly to a dangerous precedent in ignoring the privacy and the rights of the individual in a free society.

Individual rights have never been as clearly defined in Canada as they are in other places, like the U.S. for example. But that situation has got to change. Mr. Fox's revelations can do some good if they force the government into legislation which clearly defines the rights of individual Canadians, and the groups to which they belong.

The opposition parties are now charging that the RCMP has formed a network of spies, and that those spies are operating throughout Canadian society, in labor unions, on university campuses, and in legal political organizations. And as always, when a tension is set up between the rights of the individual and the power of the Federal government to ignore those rights, the government is trying to justify that "spy network" under the catch all expediency of national security. Ironically, the security of Canada as a nation may be threatened by the very acts which were designed to ensure its security. The break-in at the Party Quebecois headquarters has given Rene Levesque an example of the attitude of the federalists that he can use to his political advantage in the battle for Quebec's independence.

There is no doubt that Canada's national police force should have broad powers to combat terrorist activities and threats to the peace from radical groups prone to violence. But as things now stand, those very powers are being misused. If the current laws are inadequate in providing police the powers they need to combat real issues of national security, then those laws should be changed.

But whatever powers are given to the police, those powers must be clearly defined in law. The RCMP must be subject to the control, through law, of the people they exist to protect.

As things now stand, the police have had a free hand to do almost as they please. And their actions have become a threat to individual freedom. That, above all, is something that must not be allowed to continue.

From the Huron Expositor

Dear Editor:

In the few weeks since our former Finance Minister left that cabinet post, the "French take-over in high places" has escalated rapidly. The following information has all appeared in the newspapers...

1. A "first" for a Francophone - Jean Chretien, our new Finance Minister.
2. "Jacques Dexter, who, at the governments request, wrote "the bilingualism policy for the army, has been moved to Chairman of the C.N. Railway." (Another public service to Francophone-ize?).
3. At about the same time Pierre Taschereau (another Francophone) is made chairman of "Air Canada."

4. In the October 27 issue of the Toronto Star - quote: "Trudeau trying to launch French Commonwealth. The Canadian government is trying to (launch) organize a new National Commonwealth of 25 French speaking nations, with Canada as a member."
5. Our new Finance Minister made his first speech to the U.S. entirely in French.
6. Trudeau introduced our Queen to the Canadian Parliament - in French.

Recently some Haliburton residents visited Ottawa again, and were surprised that "it was like being in Quebec. Even the sales clerks spoke French."

Hasn't Trudeau warned us many times that his deadline for bilingualism in all public services is 1981? Not far off, is it?

If he is re-elected will we then say "Bilingual Yesterday, French Today"?

Sincerely,
Claudia Say

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

There has, of course, been considerable discussion at Queen's Park of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police break-in at the Montreal Headquarters of the Parti Quebecois in 1973. Liberal Leader, Stuart Smith, called on the Legislature to inform Ottawa of its "abhorrence at this fundamental breach of civil liberties." While this suggestion was not adopted, all three parties said they were shocked at news of the break-in.

The Attorney-General and Solicitor-General of Ontario are to meet with senior provincial officials of the RCMP to discuss whether they have investigated legitimate political parties in this province, to ask "just what the nature of their activities" is in this connection. The Attorney-General said he is satisfied that the government is kept fairly well informed of the force's activities. In his view, the province has "always tolerated a fair amount of police discretion because to do otherwise would create the impression we're directing police operations for political considerations," but there is a "delicate balance" between allowing them a degree of independence and "the opposite, where they are a power unto themselves responsible to no one."

Responding to a question from Stuart Smith, the Attorney-General said the preliminary report by the Ontario Police Commission into the Praxis break-in contains "no evidence whatsoever of any police involvement of any police force - RCMP, Metro Toronto police department, or any other police department." He said he would release "the relevant contents" of the report when he receives it in final form, but he does not "intend to table the complete report as a police report because it contains...many statements based on hearsay and unfounded allegations." The Huron Street office of Praxis Corporation, a group organizing the poor, were broken into on December 18, 1970. Documents reported missing were earlier this year turned over to Metro police by the RCMP.

The Solicitor-General has informed a committee of the Legislature that while he does not wish to minimize the problems of racism, and he agrees that incidents of attacks upon South Asians are increasing, he considers it unfair to expect police to solve these problems. He expressed the view that the main problem is "in our homes, in our schools and in our workplaces where we, as private citizens, can let this kind of prejudice fester."

Opposition Parties have, in recent weeks, been pressing the Government to release an official legal opinion on whether or not Quebec's French-language Charter, Bill 101, is in the main constitutional. The Attorney-General this week expressed the official view that "the Charter as enacted by the National Assembly is not in excess of the legal powers of the province as a whole."

The Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations has announced that the allowable ceiling on rent increases without the need for appeal has been reduced from 8 per cent to 6 per cent. This amendment was forced upon the Government by Opposition Parties earlier this year, and ties allowable rent increases to the federal wage guidelines. While he said he would not remove the provision if he returned to power with a majority, the Premier used the defeat to argue obstruction by Opposition Parties and dissolve the Legislature. Liberal Leader, Stuart Smith, said that the Minister's latest announcement "proves that they haven't told the truth to the people of Ontario. The whole election was a farce. They spent $25 million on a futile election."

A tax exemption granted to Ronto Development Company was the subject of a great deal of controversy last year. Now the Legislature's Public Accounts Committee has voted that the Government should change its mind and try to collect up to $2 million from Ronto.

The Province has now reduced the allowable limit of benzene in the air in the workplace to one part per million, from the former standard of 10 parts per million. This action has been taken as a result of a warning from a U.S. occupational health and safety agency that the chemical has been linked to cancer.

Hugh O'Neil, MPP (Quinte), Liberal Labour Critic, has asked the Government to delay debate on the principle of its occupational health bill until the Ontario Federation of Labor holds its convention at the end of November, because OFL officials want to discuss the bill extensively with their members before it goes to a Legislature Committee for detailed scrutiny.

Both Opposition Parties have urged the Government to open the spring session of the Legislature next year in January or February, instead of, as is traditional, in March. The current session is due to end on the 16th of December.

Rev. Redvers Brown honored

Rev. Redvers Brown was honored on Sun. evening, Oct. 2, when members of the United Churches at Arden, Mountain Grove and Henderson met at the Arden United Church, along with a number of Mr. Brown's family and friends, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of his ordination, which took place in Oshawa, Ont., in 1927.

During the time that his father, Rev. A.L. Brown was pastor of the Methodist Church in Tweed, Redvers, who was his second son, graduated from the Tweed High School, and immediately took off to Georgina Island, an Ojibway Reservation, to teach school and preach. Mr. Brown said it was an experience that led him to decide on a life in the ministry while on the island.

From there, he went on to Victoria University, Toronto, and during the following years Redvers served in Western Missions and taught school to pile up needed riches to continue his education.

While he lived in Tweed, Mr. Brown said he met and was captivated by a local girl named Ruby Heath. She was one of five daughters of Mr. & Mrs. J.L. Heath. They were married on May 20th, 1926. They went to Cordova Mines, Ont. and thence to Oshawa for ordination.

Mr. Brown then accepted a call to Roseneath where he organized the young people of the church, and baseball and hockey on the community level. "White Lake" and Burnstown beckoned, and the same program was established there. Those years, and the Tamworth charge following, saw the depression years which called out the best in people across the board.

Adventures in Haliburton were brought to a conclusion when World War II began. First, Mr. Brown went to the Y.M.C.A., and then to army life. Fearing that as a chaplain he would find it difficult to reach the men, he submitted his name in the chaplain roster, and while waiting for his name to come up on the list, Mr. Brown joined the ranks as a private and completed the officers' training course at Brockville. When his transfer came, he was at Debent, N.S., and from there was sent overseas.

On returning, following the war, Mr. & Mrs. Brown served at Hay Bay, Keswick, Colborne and Port Rowan. Following a short rest, that started out to be retirement, Mr. & Mrs. Brown moved to the Arden Pastoral Charge, which includes churches at Arden, Mountain Grove and Henderson.

The church and social room were packed to capacity for Sunday evening's service conducted by Rev. Clive Wilson, with Doris Hornbeck providing the organ music. The Old Testament Lesson was read by Rev. Raymond Martin, with Rev. John Lock reading the New Testament Scripture.

In the prayers of petition, Rev. Brindle MacIntosh made special mention of the dedication to duty that Rev. Redvers Brown had shown during his 50 years in the ministry. His example, he said, was one that all might follow.

John McDougall led members of the Land O' Lakes School Choir in singing "Joshua Fit the Battle"; "I'm Going to Sing" and "Blowing In the Wind."

Guest speaker of the evening was the Rev. George M. Richardson of Perth, Ont., the Past President of the Bay of Quinte Conference. He spoke of the shadow we all cast while passing through this life, and the affect this shadow may have on others. He referred to the number of persons who had been touched by the shadow of Rev. Redvers Brown during his 50 years of service to the Church.

Among numerous gifts and messages of congratulations received by Mr. Brown, was a plaque from members of the congregations of Arden, Mountain Grove and Henderson United Churches, and a letter of appreciation from J. Earl McEwen, M.P.P.

Members of the Arden Pastoral Charge presented Mrs. Brown with a bouquet of flowers at the close of the evening's ceremonies.

The ladies of the three congregations and of the Senior Citizen's Club served lunch during the Friendship Hour held in the social room of the church.

Speaking briefly at the close of the program, Mr. Brown said that he and his wife were deeply touched and grateful for the genuine support and appreciation evident on Sunday evening. It is times such as this, said Mr. Brown, that one feels that 50 years spent in the ministry is very, very worthwhile.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

It's well worth your while to drop around to the Haliburton arena and see the wonderful improvements that have been made to the interior of the building. New boards have been installed, new glass has now been placed all around the boards for the protection of the spectators out of play. We understand that the next move will be to have the stands heated. A great deal of painting and touch up work has been done with improvements to the lobby area. Before too much longer it will look like Maple Leaf Gardens. Our thanks to all those who have and are still going to donate to the arena fund.

What a pleasure it was to drive around town following Hallowe'en night and to see that very little damage had been done. In past years this was not the case.

Some of the local merchants are a bit perturbed that the Main Street has not been swept or the litter taken away for some time now. Let's hope that it's done before the snow starts to fall.

Reeve, Murray Fearrey was in Toronto last week on municipal business.

Mary & Elwin Robertson have arrived home from a holiday in Saskatoon, Sask., visiting their daughter Karen and husband and three grandsons Andrew, James and Jonathan.

Do you know that The Ontario Society for Crippled Children assists the work of 16 regional treatment centres throughout Ontario by payment of approved treatment through local Easter Seal service clubs or special grants towards capital cost.

This Thurs., Nov. 10, the Federal Business Development Bank are holding a management seminar at PineStone Inn, Haliburton, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with the fee being $15.00. Here is a Business Management Seminar on two very common problems faced by rapidly growing small businesses. The two topics will be "Cash Flow Difficulties" and "Whether or not to Incorporate." It should be a good seminar and well worth attending.

Hunting season is underway and we hope that we will get by the two weeks without any serious accidents.

This Fri., Nov. 11, is Remembrance Day. Make it a point now to attend the service and help to pay tribute to those brave men who laid down their lives making it possible for us to live in peace and comfort in this great land that we live in.

Mr. & Mrs. Gordon Dunsmore, of Barrie, visited with Mr. & Mrs. Elwin Robertson over the weekend.

The Haliburton Junior Travelways Huskies have finished their training period and have now started into their regular schedule. Last season the Huskies did not receive the support that they so richly deserved. This is another season and from all reports the team looks good and should put up some excellent games and we are quite sure that they will supply the fans with some very interesting hockey action. This season, as an added incentive, the stands will be heated for your added comfort and this will also give the senior citizens the chance to sit and enjoy the games without freezing to death. With all the renovations that have been made it will be just like sitting in Maple Leaf Gardens. Let's hope that the Huskies will be well supported this season and by so doing it will give the players more encouragement to go all out and try to win the All Ontario Championship.

The new curling arena in Haliburton is well on the way to becoming a reality. This beautiful new building is deserving of your support. Certain grants have been received but many more thousands of dollars must be raised to pay for this beautiful new facility. We hope that everyone will get behind it with their financial support. You did it for the arena fund and it proves that it can be done for the new curling arena.

Traffic on certain streets in Haliburton has had to be re-routed to other streets. It may be a slight inconvenience but don't let it upset you. This has been caused by the installation of sanitary sewers which have been badly needed for a great many years. It doesn't matter what new project is started, at times we do have to put up with this inconvenience if we are going to have progress. We must move ahead in the coming years.

Something new at Sir Sam's Inn Ski Resort. Last Saturday a Ski Clinic was started that will give all skiers the opportunity to learn the finer points of skiing. It's your opportunity to take advantage of the reduced prices on mounting, bindings, complete tune-up, flat filing, hot waxing, etc. For more information just call 754-2188.

After a year of enthusiastic support for cross country skiing the Haliburton Area Cross Country Ski Club executive feel that expanded facilities would be needed and appreciated for this coming season. Although the Club is hoping to receive a Wintario grant, other financial aid and volunteer help may be needed. If you can help in any way, please do so.

You know we can help a most worthy cause and that is the good work now being done by the Brownies and Guides in Haliburton. How do we do this? Well, tonight, Wed., Nov. 9, the Brownies and Guides are sponsoring a theatre night of children's films at the Molou Theatre, at 7:00 p.m. The two films to be shown are "Jack in the Beanstalk and The Three Stooges." And just imagine, tickets are only $1.00 each.

Graham - Daniel

"Comfort Ye My People"

The exhortation "Comfort Ye My People," was written in the 6th Century B.C., by the Prophet Isaiah, as he languished in Babylonian exile. He was personally acquainted with more than his share of woes; yet heartache and loss are not confined to political captives alone.

An ancient legend tells of a widow whose only child, a son, was claimed by death. She cried to God: "Give back my beloved" until God agreed the child would be returned when she brought him a seed from a house where none had lost to death.

A child, parent or mate. Though she travelled the wide world over, no dwelling did she find where sorrow had not visited. Chastened by what she had seen, she begged God's forgiveness and to prove her contrition returned to her village where she spent the rest of her life comforting mourners and ministering to the sick.

Hebrew mystics say there are 3 ways in which human heartgrief is expressed. Those on the lowest level cry; those on the second level are silent, but those on the highest level know how to turn sorrow into song.

Long before Christ walked the Calvary Road, the Prophets Isaiah and Jeremiah entertained a concept of the suffering servant - redemption through one who bears pain for others. Isn't it strange that it took men, with all their hard bought knowledge, centuries uncounted to learn what a good wife and mother instinctively knows - that love redeems?

Only those who have been wounded, borne heartache and suffering, mental and physical, can deal realistically with those in like circumstance. From the pain of sharp intruding sand comes the oyster's finest pearls. Light refracted by dust and industrial smoke produces glorious sunsets. From the Cross came the resurrection, the joy of Easter morning and salvation for a hurting world. In the Brotherhood of man, what an awesome responsibility and privilege is ours - to minister to the least of these, His brethren!

God, in His infinite wisdom, gave to women a special capacity for compassion and comforting which a Christian faith can enhance until it is almost divine. A poet, Mary Webb, saw such faith in action and paid it tribute thus:

I watched her in the loud and shadowy lanes of life; And every face that passed her by grew calmly restful, Smilingly quiet, as though she gave for all their griefs and pains largesse of comfort Soft as summer rains and balsam tinctured with tranquility. Yet in her own eyes dwelt an agony.

just a little bit better. Some people are in a rut and they should be brought out of it. If you can help someone out you will be surprised just how good it will make you feel. Just give it a try.

Our congratulations this week go to the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen who last week won their football league championship with a lopsided 37-9 win over Brock of Cannington. Teachers, Bob Colliver and Gary Brohman, are to be commended on the great job they have done in moulding this club together. It is certainly encouraging to see the school taking such a great interest in sports and it is also great to note that the players who make up this team come from all parts of the county. In our opinion we can't stress too much the fact and importance of young men playing in the field of sports. It's going to make them better citizens in the future.

Guy Lombardo, the leader of the Royal Canadians, the band that plays the sweetest music this side of heaven, is dead. He passed away over the weekend. Born in London, Ontario, he formed his first band which included three of his brothers and a sister and for many years people of all ages danced and listened to his music that made him a household word. It just wouldn't be New Years Eve without Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians. We understand that one of his brothers will take over the band and they will be playing on New Years Eve as they have done on several occasions in the past. Should Old Acquaintance be Forgotten - we will always remember Guy Lombardo.

Bill Smiley Give thanks

IT'S A pretty good idea to stop once in a while and give thanks. It doesn't have to be Thanksgiving Day, but it's as good a time as any. It's a day to take stock, look around, be glad you're alive, and if you have anything at all to be thankful about, perhaps mutter "Thank God."

There are a few — a very few — who haven't one single thing in the world to be thankful about, and my heart goes out to them. But most of us, if we are honest, can find all sorts of things if we dig around in the detritus of our lives.

For example, my wife is inclined to get bags under her eyes on the slightest provocation. I never get them, which makes her furious, because she is five years younger than I and infinitely better looking.

"Why do you never get bags?" she snarks at me.

"Because I have a pure heart and a clean mind!" I retort, which doubles her fury.

She is the one who does Yoga exercises and goes on diets. And gains weight. I am the one who never does anything more strenuous than take the cap off a bottle of beer, eats anything in sight, and has a waist like a wasp.

You see, there's lots to be thankful for. Just being alive is one thing. Millions of people aren't. And while things may be pretty groovy in heaven, and pretty gruesome in hell, I doubt seriously that either has as much to offer as being a human on this rotten old earth.

I have bursitis in my shoulder, arthritis in my foot, disintegrating discs in my spine, and a tooth that falls out every time I bite anything more substantial than a banana.

But on the other hand, I don't have cancer, a bum heart, high blood pressure, diabetes, or the crud. I can still hobble around 18 holes of golf, catch a fish, and stay up till four o'clock in the morning and put in a good day's work. Boy, am I thankful.

I'm happy to be a Canadian, although it gets a little harder each year, what with inflation, unemployment, pollution, separatism and a Liberal government that is trying to get every nickel out of me before I die so I can't

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY:
Roses are red,
Rabbis are kosher,
If it weren't for Dear Abby,
We'd all be much gaucher.
Try that on your piccolo.

FRANK KLOCK

DEAR FRANK: Your poem arrived during the High Holy Days, so I tried it on my ram's horn. It was beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: As far as I'm concerned, that self-proclaimed "liberated" woman who thought her boyfriend should pay for her birth control pills is far from liberated.

Her attitude is typical of most "liberated" women. They prefer to open their own doors and light their own cigarettes, but when it comes to money—the liberation's over!

Most men spend between $15 and $25 for an evening out. Multiply that by the number of times they go out during the month and it's a lot more than the $3 or $4 a month she pays for birth control pills.

When was the last time this girl picked up the tab for an evening out? And when did she last invite him over for dinner? And when was the last time they used HER car on a date?

I think she should pay for her birth control pills, don't you?

REALISTIC

DEAR REALISTIC: Not necessarily. A man who's asked to shell out for his girlfriend's birth control pills would be a fool to refuse. It's peanuts compared to what his monkeyshines could cost in terms of child support.

DEAR ABBY: I sympathize with HOT STUFF ON THE HILL—the 19-year-old girl who has passes made at her because she has a 38 bust. Well, I'm only 5 feet tall and I also have a 38 bust. I've had it since high school, and I've suffered terribly because of it. Blouses and dresses gapped. (I used a safety pin for every space in between.) Sweaters at least stretched, but I had to wear a size much too big in the shoulders so I wouldn't look like I was on the make.

I am now a happily married mother, but I still get come-ons from men I didn't know existed until we were face to face. Therefore, I know it wasn't my language or the look in my eye that provoked their passes.

I'm not ugly, but I'm no beauty queen either. My oversized bust has embarrassed me since I was 13. I get catcalls, whistles and even dirty remarks from men when I pass.

Abby, those women who feel cheated because they're small-busted should walk a mile in my bra.

38 AND HATES IT

CONFIDENTIAL TO S.M. IN MPLS: Don't quit trying. Sometimes it's the last key in the bunch that opens the door.

Clouds

Pillow's of dreamy white
That meet the early dawn
Roll easy of the horizon
Like that of gentle song.

Keepers of magic moments
That reflect the golden rays
As they steal silently to earth
Through the early morning haze.

Free to the dreamers of men
To ease the strain of time
With never ending image's
To mould within the mind.

Trapped by the winds of chance
These Gypsy's of the lonely sky
As they drift in lazy peacefulness
And watch the world pass by.

from last week

When the boss was allotting the men to the different outfits of horses at the start of seeding, he gave me four, three year old colts that were as green as colts could be. He also put me harrowing which is about the worst job you can put untrained colts on, as there is no tongue to keep them from backing up and getting tangled up in the traces. When we started to see, the field was a mile and a half from the barn. We had to take feed out for our horses at noon. A tank of water had already been hauled out there. These colts would not lead behind the feed wagon like other horses. The only way that I could get them to the field was to hitch them together and drive them. That meant that I had to walk the mile and a half to work. I had to walk behind the harrows all day, and walk home again at night.

After supper I had to look after my outfit and then help treat seed grain for the next days seeding. After that I was ready for bed. In those days no grain was seeded without being treated for smut. We used a treater that had to be turned by hand. It put the grain through a solution of either bluestone or formaldehyde. The grain was carried out into a pile and there was a skimmer that was supposed to take off the chaff and wild oats that the fanning mill missed. The grain was left in the pile overnight, and in the morning bagged up to go to the field. The boss would bring the wagon loads of bags out to the field. He had a horse with one white hind foot. The team would walk along the end of the field, and after so many steps of this white foot, he would slip off a bag to the ground. That was his way of measuring. When we went to fill our drill, we had to take the bag on our shoulders and walk along the drill box. Compare that method with the electric drill fillers of today.

We were a week late in starting to seed. 1911 was a very wet year which made it even later. There were no early varieties of wheat at that time. Most of it was Red fife which was a good two weeks later maturing than the varieties we have today.

That two weeks made the difference between a good crop and a frozen one. It was so wet that summer that we could hardly get the summer-fallow done. We were just doing it for the first time at exhibition week. By that time the weeds were so high that the horses could feed as they went along without bending their necks when we were plowing. Another thing causing the lateness of the season was the big snow-storm on the end of May and the first of June. It began on the 28th of May with a rain that turned to snow. It snowed for three days and by then there was a foot of wet snow on the ground. It did not freeze which was a miracle. Some of the first wheat seeded was beginning to come up. When the snow went down to an inch or two, you could see the green wheat coming up through the snow.

We had just begun to seed flax when the snow came and it was the 10th of June before the ground was dry enough to start again. That was late for the varieties of flax that we grew then. There was a heavy growth of straw, enough for twenty bushels to the acre, but on the 25th of August it froze while the flax was in bloom. That killed it entirely. There was nothing in the balls at all. It also froze the wheat down to grades number six or feed. Frost always delays the ripening process of grain and it was on in September before the grain was ripe enough to cut. The boss went to town and bought another new binder and put five binders to work in the field. Even then the cutting progressed slowly. The crop was very heavy and tangled with the wind. The boss would go to town and bring out all the men that he could find to do the stooking. He planned to have enough men for a threshing crew by the time the stooking was done.

The boss had a big steam threshing outfit of his own and he hired another from a neighbor. He had plenty of trouble with those two machines. If one was not broken down, the other one was. The weather was bad too, so the threshing went slowly. About the 15th of October, it rained and turned to snow. That put a stop to the threshing, so we tried stacking the grain, shaking as much snow as possible out of the stooks before stacking them. After most of the wheat was stacked, the weather looked better so we tried threshing oats. He thought most of the snow would blow out, but it did not.

There was lots of ice on the threshed oats. We were putting the oats in the bins in the barn loft. It was only a day or two until the heat from the horses below began to melt the ice in the oats and water would drip down into the barn. So we had to put the oats in outside bins. Finally, about the end of November, there was a warm spell that melted the snow so that it ran into the stooks and made farther threshing impossible. In decent weather our threshing hours were from six o'clock in the morning until seven in the evening with an hour off at noon and with lunch breaks in the middle of the morning and afternoon. The machine was never stopped for lunch. Wages were $3 a day for teamsters and pitchers, $3.50 for spike pit-

Exhibition game

Huskies lose to Bancroft

The Junior D hockey season for the Haliburton Huskies gets underway tonight in Colborne and for most of us who enjoy watching a few games during the year, we are expecting some big things.

The club is certainly a great deal stronger this year than last. Most players from last year's team, that finished the season, are back with the noticeable losses though of high scoring forwards Dave Levely and Bernie Nicholls.

Two exhibition games Haliburton played with the Bancroft Jets should have little bearing on the rest of the season. Haliburton lost both games by 7-3 counts.

Some of the Huskies appeared to be slightly out of shape and hopefully will be in better condition tonight, while a few other players, noticeably those who played on the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School football team, appeared to be a little tired.

These problems should be corrected by tonight though.

Also missing from the lineup in the last game was Tim Oram, in my estimation the best player on the team, and perhaps the best we will see this year in the league.

Haliburton did get a couple of good performances from players up from the Minden Juveniles, which should strengthen the team by adding some depth.

There was also a good showing by Andy Salvatori, who was nipped up last year by Haliburton for the playoffs.

Andy was a student last year with the Haliburton Midgets and then performed well with the Huskies in the playoffs.

The other "senior" team so to speak, in the county, the Minden Juveniles, are getting ready for the season as well. Coach, Ross Warburton, said that they have had 17 players out to practice and expects the team to make a good showing.

He did say that an injury to Dave Brown will hurt the team.

Brown was hurt in the Kawartha District Football finals last week.

The Haliburton Midgets, according to coach Bill Davis, will be contenders again this year. Last year the team lost a close series to Beaverton, who eventually went on to win the all-Ontario finals.

The repairs to the Dysart Arena certainly have made a difference to the building.

One big difference was evident Friday night when the Huskies took on Bancroft. The puck was kept in play on a number of occasions by the newly installed glass around the boards.

This will no doubt speed up the games causing fewer breaks in the action.

The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder need the help of the coaches, managers and executive of the minor hockey associations in the county if the games are going to be publicized. All we ask is that you get the scoresheets to us after every game, whether you win or lose.

The Haliburton Travelways Huskies came up a little bit short in every department to lose a second exhibition game to Bancroft Jets 7-3. Huskies lost the first game in the home and home exhibition series in Bancroft by the same score.

Bancroft's Mark McGhee opened the scoring at 8:31 of the first period on a play from Kim Hinze and Steve Golton. Joe Roberts, showing the form which made him the top Huskies scorer last season, evened the count at 10:43 of the period on a play from Tim Bain.

It didn't take Bancroft long to get going in the second period when Doug Robock scored from Allan Linton in the 46 second mark.

Bancroft went ahead 3-1 at 11:12 of the period on a goal by Golton from Hinze.

Brian Parks ran the count to 4-1 just 35 seconds later when he connected on a play from Linton and Mark Laundry.

Bancroft kept the pressure on in the third period and came up with a goal at 1:46, Glen Watson from Robock.

Watson made the score 6-1 at the eight minute mark on a play from Hinze.

Bancroft's final marker came at 11:39 of the third period when Steve Charbonneau connected from Bill Fransky.

The Huskies got untracked at 14:33 when Andy Salvatori scored from Jim Thompson and Kirk Potter.

Tom Bain scored Haliburton's final goal at 18:27 on a play from Salvatori.

A total of 74 minutes in penalties were called in the contest with 41 going to the Huskies.

The Huskies start the regular season tonight when they travel to Colborne for a game which begins at 8 p.m.

Haliburton plays its first home game against Bewdley on Friday night at 8:30 p.m.

The traffic was heavy around the Haliburton Travelways Huskies' net Friday night when the club lost to Bancroft 7-3 in an exhibition contest. The Junior D club goes into regular league action tonight when the team travels to Colborne. The first home contest will be Friday night at 8:30 p.m. when Rice Lake Rangers come to the Dysart Community Centre.

Redmen lose close contest in finals

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen came within 10 minutes of winning the Kawartha District Football A championship but a well executed march by the Norwood High School brought Haliburton's undefeated string to an end.

Norwood ended up on top in the game 24-15.

Haliburton got on the scoreboard first when Dave Brown intercepted a pass in the first quarter and ran the ball 25 yards for a touchdown.

The convert attempt was missed.

Norwood scored a field goal early in the second quarter and then picked up an unconverted touchdown late in the half to give the team a 9-6 lead.

Ron Yake kicked a 45 yard single point for Haliburton to close the gap to 9-7 in the second half.

Larry Stinson put Haliburton in the lead 13-9 when he scored on a 15 yard pitch and run play. Stinson fell into the end zone after being hit several times.

Redmen quarterback, Tim Davies, hit Brian Mulholland for a two point conversion to make the score 15-9.

Haliburton had the game all but wrapped up later in the final quarter when they had the ball third down and only inches to go on the Norwood 20 yard line, but a penalty for tandem blocking forced the visitors to punt.

It was at that time that Norwood started their team well executed march from their own 15 yard line to score and run the count to 17-15 in Norwood's favor.

Haliburton had another chance with the ball but the Norwood defense forced the visitors to give up the ball. Norwood then came back for a converted touchdown.

Redmen coach, Gary Brohman, said that Norwood's success lies with the strength of their offensive line, which made it possible to score the two late touchdowns.

Stinson again led the way offensively for Haliburton, gaining 200 yards on the ground in 27 carries to give him a total of 1,004 for the six games played this season.

Coach Brohman had nothing but praise for Stinson, pointing out that the star running back is one of the top high school football players in Ontario.

Ed Roberts also played a big game for Haliburton catching five passes for 35 yards as well as playing on the defensive team.

Defensively, Bart Barnes, Brent Collier and Brian Shaw came up with big efforts. Haliburton had to play the last half without Dave Brown, one of the top defensive players on the team. Brown was injured in the first half.

"One defeat doesn't mean it was a bad season," commented coach Brohman who said it was the best season Haliburton has ever had in football. The team ended the year with a four win, one tie and one loss record plus a win in an exhibition game.

The team won the Kawartha West Championship.

Coach Brohman said that both teams were capable of winning the final game but gave full credit to the effort made by the Norwood club.

Ops Centre surprises Minden Juveniles

Ops Centre - The Ops Juveniles came up with five unanswered goals in the final period to down the Minden Juveniles 6-3 in a game played in Ops Sunday.

Ops opened the scoring at the 10:50 mark of the first period when Jim Pearson connected from George Hamilton.

Minden got on the score-sheet at 5:29 of the second period on a goal by Jerry Campbell from Brian Shaw. Kevin O'Brien put Minden ahead 2-1 just two minutes later on a play from Dean Potter.

Minden opened the count to 3-1 at 10:10. The third Minden goal came off the stick of Shaw from Campbell and Alan Clement.

It didn't take Ops long to get back into the game though, when Steve Callaghan scored from Larry Currins.

An unassisted goal by Ops' Tim Pearson, at 2:06 of the final period, evened the count.

Ops went ahead 4-3 just 30 seconds later when Tom Dorgan connected from Blair Hicks.

Jim Pearson scored the insurance marker at 6:03 of the period from Currins and Hamilton.

The final Ops' goal came off the stick of Paul Winn from Tim Pearson with 2:09 remaining in the game.

A total of 48 minutes in penalties were called in the game with Minden taking 28.

Half of the penalties were called in the third period but all were of a minor nature.

The Minden Juveniles play at home on Friday, at 8:30 p.m., against Cannington.

Haliburton Midgets blanked by Bancroft

Haliburton - The Haliburton Beaconbrook Midgets may have bit off a little more than they could chew when they took on Bancroft in an exhibition game Sat. night at the Dysart Community Centre.

The Midgets ended up on the short end of a 7-0 count. It took Bancroft only to the 1:30 mark of the opening frame to score the winner.

Joe Giles scored from Wayne Fransky.

By the 3:13 mark Bancroft had an insurance marker when Bob Whitmore scored unassisted.

The score went to 3-0 at 12:25 of the opening period when Robby Sargent connected on a solo effort.

Gord Zelinski made the score 4-0 at the 57 second mark of the second period on an unassisted play.

Zelinski ran the count to 5-0 at 13:12 of the period when he scored unassisted again.

Bancroft picked up their final two markers in the empty net in the third period when Haliburton took their goaltender out to break the shutout.

Jeff Rupnow scored the first of the two unassisted at the 8 minute mark and Paul Tomlin scored at 14:39 from Whitmore.

Haliburton got physical in the final period taking seven penalties to two for Bancroft.

A total of 42 minutes in penalties were called in the game with 24 going to Haliburton.

The Beaconbrook Midgets see league action Saturday night at 8:30, at the Dysart Arena.

OPERATOR TRAINING

We are getting frequent queries regarding classes for unlicensed snowmobilers and as the weather turns cooler and snow becomes imminent, many more young people will be looking to be trained. A brief explanation of procedure is perhaps now in order.

Snow vehicle operators licenses are available to all persons over the full age of twelve years who do not now hold a valid driver's license.

In general this means the twelve to sixteen age group, but it includes older persons who have not obtained a motor vehicle operators license. Any person who has ever been refused an operators license for whatever grounds, and any person who has had his license revoked, is not eligible.

Driver-training instructors have been chosen in most snowmobile clubs, usually two to a club, trained and certified in the MTC Snow Vehicle Operator Training and Certification Program, and authorized to give the mandatory six-hour course and examination and to issue licenses to the successful students. Such licenses must be validated by an authorized MTC Driver Examiner. The cost to the student is $6.25 for the course plus $2.00 for validation. Total - $8.25.

To enroll for a class simply contact your local snowmobile club and request a pre-registration form. When the form is received, fill it out as directed, making sure that your address is complete, and where the student is a minor have it signed by a parent or legal guardian. Submit the form (both copies) to the club, or person indicated, along with payment of $6.25 made payable to the snowmobile club. Do not include the validation fee, this is paid to the Driver Examiner.

When your registration is in hand, you will be notified of all classes then scheduled and it will be determined which one is most convenient for you to attend. Since, in this area, a very large number of students are the children of cottagers, most schools will be run as an all-day session, either Saturday or Sunday.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association now has three instructors. They are: Dennis Casey, serving the Haliburton Village area; Bob Patton, the Maple Lake area; and Bob Jennings, at Hall's Lake. One school is now scheduled with Mr. Patton and Mr. Jennings collaborating, Sun., Nov. 27. The location is not yet announced but it will be a place central to both instructors. Your driver-training co-ordinator in the HCSA is this writer, Roy Bates, R.R. 2, Haliburton, KOM 1S0. Telephone 457-1658.

All instructors have been directed to hold their classes down to no more than fifteen students. This is to provide a better opportunity for personal attention to those students requiring a little more instruction. Acceptance in any school will be on a first come first served basis.

The O.F.S.C. Driver-Training Committee has reported that approximately 500 instructors are now working in the Province and the target for this year is to train another 300. To date more than 10,000 students have been trained and licensed. The estimate for this season is another 25,000. The Committee is eagerly awaiting the day when the results of the program will be clearly evident in a reduction of snowmobile accident statistics. It has been shown already that training young drivers for safety in operation can improve the driving habits of their elders.

ALL THE WAY TO VALCOURT

We spent a pleasant hour on Sunday afternoon pouring over our maps with a friend from Port Sydney to choose a route across Haliburton for a trip in February.

The group will consist of six riders led by Mr. Lloyd Woods, a past president of the O.F.S.C. (Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs).

They plan to reach Haliburton on the first day, Eganville on the second, and ride on to Shawville, Quebec, on the third. From there it will take two more days to reach their destination, the town Bombardier made famous, Valcourt, which is located East of Montreal about 25 miles from Sherbrooke. They'll transport back home.

We wish them beautiful weather, smooth trails, and wish we could go.

Showdown

Haliburton - Youngsters in the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association will have the opportunity to participate in showdown this year.

The showdown program, which is run under similar rules as the professional game, is sponsored by Coca Cola and Bauer.

Bill Davis, organizer of the program in Haliburton, said that youngsters who want to participate should "show up for showdown" this Saturday to register for the event.

Entry forms for the event can be obtained from coaches, managers, Bill Davis, or Len Salvatori.

There will be a $3 entry charge of which the minor hockey association will get $1. The youngsters participating will all receive a poster, a pennant and a three dollar coupon from Bauer.

The actual date for the event in Haliburton has not been set Mr. Davis said, but he expects it to be held sometime in January.

The winner of the Haliburton division will go on to district finals and from there on to the championship if successful. The championship will be televised from coast to coast.

Hallowe'en

Kinmount softball action

Hallowe'en is described in the Grolier Encyclopedia as an occasion for more or less harmless and supposedly mysterious mischief on the part of wretched small boys. This also accurately describes the ball games taking part in Kinmount.

Galway team showed up in force and Hugh Fountain showed up for Somerville. When Hugh left, Galway pondered winning the game by default, but Hugh just went for reinforcements. Shirley Preston was absent, I guess the strain of the last game was too much for her. Ida Young became score-keeper, and a visitor to the area, Peter Pimlott became the umpire. This innocent visitor wasn't quite prepared for this job. He had no knowledge of past abuses endured by previous umpires. He felt at times that he might be lynched, wounded, or run out of town. We reassured him that this was normal treatment to any person crazy enough to take on the job.

Hugh Fountain's pitching seems to be psychologically paralyzing the Galway team. He was unnerving some of their prime hitters, but Jim Nightingale, a very seasoned ballplayer, showed them it was all in the mind. When Galway got a hit, Kevin Brown, the Somerville Short-stop, caught it. Jim showed them where to direct their hits. "Direct them!!! We're lucky to hit them."

The sun was causing havoc to the outfielders. When they could get an eye on the ball, they couldn't see the other outfielder running for it. Ken Young and Leon Wright just about collided trying to catch Hugh Fountain's hit. The outfielders looked like Indian braves watching for an ambush. Once the sun went down, the wind came up and Pauline Franzen, Yvonne Dyer, Ida and Shirley started a "Baseball Shuffle" just trying to keep warm.

Frank Franzen, Galway's catcher, received an eye injury and confided he was to start a new job on Monday. That shiner he's sporting has nothing to do with rowdiness or family disputes. Hope that clears you, Pauline.

The Stender brothers were back on Galway, and the Crego boys played for Somerville. Percy Sherman was back, encouraging Peter Pimlott with his umpiring. Perce was at a safe distance, his front porch.

One really can't say who wound up with the "Trick or Treat," but Somerville won the game with 13-7.

Minden Midgets tie Ops

Minden - The Minden Tri-County Midgets came back from a 2-0 deficit in the first period to tie Ops 3-3. The game was played at the Minden Arena, Sunday.

Ops got on the scoresheet at 2:52 of the opening frame when Cyril Winn scored from Danny Brown.

Phil Jewell put Ops ahead 2-0 at 6:03 of the period on a play from Winn.

Minden pulled within one goal with only 37 seconds remaining in the period, when Les Booth connected from Kim Hamilton.

Hamilton scored to even the score at 2-2, at 9:20 of the second period on a play from Casey Cox.

Ops jumped back into the lead 18 seconds later on a goal by Rick Eades.

Hamilton scored the only goal of the third period with 4:37 remaining to give Minden the tie.

There were 40 minutes in penalties called in the contest with 20 going to each team.

Coboconk OPP reported that Halloween this year was one of the quietest ever. I think that is good - I believe that youth should be able to have fun on Halloween but not commit vandalism. There is, unfortunately, too much of that sort of thing happening at times other than Halloween, so a big cheer to all who refrained from deliberate property damage on Oct. 31. Norland Public School students raised $75.49 from contributions for UNICEF this year - many thanks to all who helped for this worthwhile cause. Remember, Tues., Nov. 15, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. is the Norland Home and School Assoc. "Family Clay Evening." Everyone is welcome to attend but children must be accompanied by an adult.

By popular request the Community Euchre Party Night has been changed from Mon. to Tues. evenings. Each Tues. night at 8:00 p.m. all interested card players are invited to the Norland Community Hall. Admission is 50 cents and refreshments will be served. Come and bring a friend.

Miss Laura Gaunt has returned after a two week motor trip in U.S.A. She and friends travelled down the coast of Delaware, Maryland and across Chesapeake Bay, stopping enroute to visit many places of interest such as Corning, Williamsburg, Jamestown and Roanoke.

The winner of last week's hockey pool, sponsored by Norland Firefighters Assoc., was Debbie Magee with 39 seconds for the last goal of Saturday's hockey game.

The members of the choir of Norland United Church sang at Providence United Church on Sunday evening, Oct. 30. Providence Church is on the county road about half way between Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon. Following the service, the group were invited to the home of Rod MacAlpine for refreshments.

The following are some of the books in the Norland Public Library that might be of interest to readers: "The Other Side of Midnight" by Sidney Sheldon; "Exodus U.K." "Exonerated" and "Separation" all by author Richard Rohmer; "Out of the Mists" a history of Clarke Township, by Helen Schmid and Sid Rutherford; "Biography of Jack Benny" by Irving Fein and "Trinity" by Leon Uris. There are also several needlecraft magazines available with many ideas for Christmas giving and decorating.

On Thurs., Nov. 3, a group of interested business people attended a meeting at Coboconk Lions Hall to discuss the formation of a Chamber of Commerce for Coboconk and district. The guest speaker, Mr. Stan Shippam, General Manager of Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. He discussed the merits of forming a Chamber of Commerce in the area and felt that by business people working together, tourism (our main industry) could be given a boost that would greatly aid in producing more income for many. The first year of a Chamber of Commerce is the most difficult, there should be no selfish interest and the group should, wherever possible, work with municipal authorities. A question and answer period followed Mr. Shippam's talk and it was decided to send questionnaires to all local businesses to determine if there is sufficient interest in the community to have an active and working Chamber of Commerce. If you have further questions, please call Norm McMaster at 454-3368 or write him at Box 46, Coboconk.

Bowling team standings as of Nov. 2: J. Maunder, 26 points; K. Watson, 24 points; Eileen Forsythe, 17 points; D. Boyce, 14 points; E. Edwards 13 points; and J. Boyce, 11 points. Ladies high single, triple and average - Rotha Bryant, 225, 586 and 187. Men's high single and triple - Don Lee, 249, 616, and men's high average - Ernie Edwards 218. Ladies spare high single - Pat Grozelle, 237 and high triple - Brenda Greer, 626.

On Fri., Nov. 4, Fenelon Falls Secondary School held their Annual Commencement. Kenneth Bartley, John Brohm and Jennifer Verker received their Secondary School Honor (Grade 13) Graduation Diplomas. Receiving Grade 12 Diplomas were Lorie Bartley, Darlene Detmers, Darlene Graham and Maureen Mackie. Rose Weerdenburg qualified for her first year in School's Honor Club while Linda Bartley and Steven Brohm had honors for second year; Kathryn Batty her third year, Lorie Bartley for fourth year and Kenneth Bartley and John Brohm for fifth year. A justly proud night for parents and students alike!

FAMILY TIES
Family ties are precious things. Woven through the years. Of memories of togetherness. Of laughter, love and tears. Family ties are cherished things. Forged in childhood days. By love of parents, deep and true. And sweet familiar ways. Family ties are treasured things. And far though we may roam. The tender bonds with those we love. Still pull our hearts toward home.

Visitors of Mrs. Earl Hughes last week were Mrs. Annie Flynn and Mrs. Myrtle Moffat of Brechin, Mrs. Ruth Wilson of Atherly and Mrs. Thelma Trotter of Oshawa.

Congratulations to Mrs. Lillian Tufts who celebrated her 80th birthday on November 3. Her daughter, Lena Hughes, entertained her mother and family members to a delicious dinner and presented her with lovely gifts. Also, congratulations to Mrs. Mary Wilkinson who celebrates her 82nd birthday on Nov. 5.

Our sympathy goes out to Mrs. Myrtle Liscombe in the passing of her son, Glen Liscombe, who died Friday. Glen has not been well for some time. He was active, out and about just hours before his death. He passed away at his mother's home.

Miss Doris Winchester, our warden, was guest speaker at the Tourist Association Convention held at Rock Haven, Peterborough last week. Several members of council and guests of Warden Bob Vick attended the Warden's Banquet at Haliburton Legion Hall in Haliburton a week ago.

Madeline Wood of Cardiff, Dorothy Bain and Lola Sims of Haliburton, accompanied yours truly to a sales meeting at the Holiday Inn, at Orillia, on Tuesday evening.

Halloween passed rather quietly, with little folk having a lot of fun. That's what it is all about! The little ones should have a good time and there should not be a lot of vandalism.

Sympathy goes out to Mrs. Florence Nesbitt who lost her father last week. Her father, Charles Piror, aged 103 yrs. old, passed away at Little Current on Manitoulin Island on Oct. 29. He had spent almost ten years in the Centennial Manor at Little Current, but despite his advanced years was quite alert and enjoyed a visit from his son just an hour or so before his passing.

Shirley and Colin (Buck) McCraw, of Norland, are now Coboconk residents, moving into the Demco house on Usually the birds are around the feeder in October, but this year we were wondering what was wrong, as even last week there were none; Sunday morning I had just turned over for another snooze when I heard a real racket outside my bedroom window. I can't really describe it, but it was so loud that I finally peeked past the curtain to see what it was!

There was the Blue Jay that comes every year, clinging to the edge of the window calling me. As soon as the bird saw me, it flew to the roof and scolded me until I came down and put some sunflower seeds in the feeder, then and then only did it shut up. He made many trips to the feeder, so must have been hungry, but in between his visits, came the chickadees, many of them flitting back and forth. They were so pretty to watch, and I'm glad to see them back again.

Mr. & Mrs. Phil Graham had a lovely holiday in the Central and Eastern States, but when I was talking to Phil he told me that at most of the places they stayed, they could only get two stations on TV.

One usually was good, but the other wasn't, so I guess we are not so bad off, as their TV was on cable. With our cable we can get more than two, and all are good.

Did you know that if your scissors get dull, cutting them through sandpaper a few times will help sharpen them up.

Last week I reported that Mrs. Jean Taylor was in Peterborough Hospital, now I'm sorry to tell you she never got there, as the morning she was to go in she suffered a heart attack and was rushed to Bowmanville Hospital. The latest news I had was that she is much better, but will be in that hospital for this week and next week as well.

It has been brought to my attention that phone calls are being made asking people to allow door to door salesmen to call and demonstrate products for you to buy on time. Beware of phonies, if you know the person and the product they are selling, the rest is up to you; but so many people have been conned in other places that you might be taken in by something they call a good deal, so please be careful.

There were two card parties last week and both reported good attendance. At the Mini Card Party the prize winners were: Bridge, Helen Sturt; Cribbage, Harry MacMinn and Jeanne Sears; Euchre, Pearl Cowan and Nellie MacMinn; Lone Hand, Hilda Harrison.

LOBA Card Party: Cribbage, Bill Elcome; Euchre, Vera Fuller (on a cut), Lyman Cox, Shirley Elcome, Rick Bell; Lone Hand, Trudy Coulter.

Mr. & Mrs. Roy Anderson visited with relatives in Grimsby over the weekend.

This week all, or most of the men go hunting and enjoy a holiday. I don't know how much hunting they do? But it is a good time for their wives to have a holiday too.

I was asked the other day when women got away from it all and relaxed, and I had no answer to it.

Don't forget all the events coming up. Nov. 15 - Martha Group of U.C.W.; Nov. 16 - W.I. at Parish Hall 2 p.m.; Nov. 18 - Christmas Luncheon and Bazaar and Bake Sale at United Church, 11:30 - 2:30 p.m.; Nov. 19 - Skating Club Dance, 8 p.m., swing to the Trademen who, by the way, were never the Rhythmairs. Sorry for that false lead last week. Tickets are now on sale on a giant Panda which is to be drawn for at their Christmas Bake Sale and Bazaar in December.

Someone asked me about a shortbread recipe in the Nova Scotia Cookbook, so here it is: they used to call them scotch cakes but now they are shortbread: 1 cup unsalted butter; 4 tbs. brown sugar; 2 cups all purpose flour; cream butter until light; add brown sugar and blend together until fully dissolved; add flour gradually; toss on a very lightly floured board and knead, adding only enough extra flour until the dough shows cracks as you knead it. Pat gently to 1/2 inch thickness and cut into shapes. Place on lightly floured cookie sheet and bake in a 325 degree oven for 20-25 min. or until very delicate brown. Cool on racks.

Hockey is going full blast at the Minden Arena. There were three games on Sat. and Minden won them all; there were three games Sunday also, but Minden only won the first one. Next Friday evening the Juveniles are at home against Cannington at 8:30 p.m. Saturday four games are scheduled, starting at 2 p.m. - last game starts at 5:30 p.m. Sunday the games are mixed up some from last week's schedule but as far as I know there are three games starting at 4:30 p.m. - last game to start at 7:30 p.m. There is public skating Wednesday evening and Sunday afternoon before hockey.

Mrs. Shirley Hewitt and Mrs. Gail Dudman are spending this week in Florida.

Was talking to Jeanne Sears last week and she had just picked some Marigolds and I see that where our lawn was dug up for sewers, then fixed, the new grass is coming up. Hard to believe isn't it, now that it is November?

The Minden and District Horticultural Society held their first regular meeting last week. Mr. George Tipton showed some beautiful slides of his prize winning Mums, also flowers from other Botanical Gardens. The next meeting will have as guest speaker, Mrs. Pat Campbell, telling about flowers and arrangements for Christmas and arrangements. This meeting will be on Dec. 6, 7:30 p.m. at Council Chambers. Everyone welcome.

This Friday is set aside to remember all the brave men of past wars. Just remember, at 11 a.m. to stop and send up a silent prayer that war will come no more. God and a soldier all people adore in time of war, but not before; and when war is over and all things are righted, God is neglected and an old soldier slighted.

Adios and take care now.

Miss Pat McCabe of Cameron and Mr. John Peeters of #4 Omecree received the top awards for 1977. Each received a gold watch which was presented by the Banks of Commerce in Lindsay, Little Britain and Woodville. The winners of these awards were selected for their contribution to 4-H work in the past and their potential as future community leaders. This is a reminder to representatives of Cemetery Boards of all neighboring churches concerned that a general Cemetery Board meeting is being called for Mon., Nov. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the basement hall of St. Peter's Anglican Church. This is a meeting open to discussion, in which the views of all churches may be expressed freely, for or against the project already known to you, and to decide whether or not to go forward with the plan. Try to attend or send someone in your place.

Mrs. Beryl Fallis of Millbrook has been the guest of Isabelle Gibbs this week.

Those who attended divine service at St. Peter's earlier in the fall will remember how they enjoyed hearing the Rev. George Daley. Well, you have another treat in store as Rev. 77-436 Moved by MacLellan, seconded by Stuart - That the minutes of the Sept. 26 meeting be adopted as circulated. Carried.

Mr. & Mrs. Roy Johnson appeared before the council in regards to more severances. Council informed them that they had had the number of severances allowed and gave them the information they required should they choose to make application for a registered plan of subdivision.

77-437 Moved by Chambers, seconded by MacLellan - That Mr. Coffey's severance B-185-77 be denied as submitted, as it does not conform to good planning principle. It is recommended that Mr. Coffey amend his severance to reflect either part (1) one or part (2) two as the lot(s) being severed, which council would then pass, subject to a fee of $50 per lot, payable to the township. Carried.

Mr. Shearer attended the council meeting to explain the intent of his proposed severance to council.

77-438 Moved by Chambers, seconded by MacLellan - That Mr. Shearer's severance B-215-77 be approved as submitted, subject to a fee of $50 payable to the township. This application conforms to our land use bylaws and is a continuation of an existing use. Carried.

Council informed her that her driveway would be taken into consideration along with the rest when the applications for snowplowing were reviewed.

Mr. Gil Wager attended the council meeting to discuss the stop work which was placed on his property. Council explained to him that the work he was doing on his property did not conform to the details that he had described on his application for a building permit. His permit was cancelled and his mother was to be dealt with when it had been changed to comply with Bylaw 77-13.

77-439 Moved by MacLellan, seconded by Stuart - That the building fee paid for the building permit of May 18/77 by Mr. Gil Wager be refunded. Carried.

77-440 Moved by Nokes, seconded by Chambers - That Mrs. Wagers building permit be denied subject to complying with the provisions of the land use bylaw 77-13 requiring that all buildings be 100 ft. from a public highway. Carried.

Mr. & Mrs. Petrik approached the council to see if they could help them in dealing with Mr. Smith who owns property on Crystal Lake and who had sold them property. Council told them that other than supplying them with the legal description of the property that Mr. Smith owned, their lawyer would have to deal with Mr. Smith.

Mr. Will Huels and Mr. Harry Platt attended the council meeting to finish reviewing the North Kawartha Plan and to make any changes that council wished to see. The reading was finished and council made the following resolution.

77-441 Moved by MacLellan, seconded by Nokes - that council endorse the North Kawartha Plan as presented by the North Kawartha Planning Board subject to the following proposed amendments:

Tri-County Association is to promote "B" hockey

Editors Note: The sports column in last week's Echo and Recorder discussed some problems that Jim Badgley has seen in the Tri-County Hockey League. Here is the constitution of the league to explain what it stands for.

TRI-COUNTY "B" LEAGUE CONSTITUTION

The name of this organization shall be the TRI-COUNTY "B" LEAGUE.

1. The objects of this league shall be:

(a) To promote, encourage and govern "B" Hockey in Novice, Atom, Pee Wee, Bantam, Midget and Juvenile.

(b) To carry out competition for championships.

(c) The aims of the league are as follows...to provide a system of organized hockey for boys of lower caliber of hockey so they may get sufficient ice time to develop as better hockey players. To play fairly under all circumstances.

2. Membership in the league will be comprised of centers with "B" teams in our general category of population.

1. Officers shall consist of Life Honorary members, Past-Presidents, the President, one Vice-President and the Secretary-Treasurer. Each is to be elected every two years, with the President election offset from the other officers.

4. Persons nominated for President, etc. shall have served as a Contact in previous years.

5. The President will be able to call meetings and members will be contacted by him.

6. The telephone bills, etc. of the executive shall be paid by the league.

7. Elections of officers will be held at an annual meeting held after the conclusion of the season.

8. The officers of the league shall have control of the affairs of the league and shall have the power to fill any vacancy which may occur. The executive shall have power to suspend or discipline any coach, manager, player, trainer, referee or other official connected with a club.

9. Any clause in the regulations and rules of competition may be changed and defined at any time by a majority vote of the membership.

10. Changes or amendments in the constitution may be made only at the annual meeting held at the conclusion of each season.

11. All O.M.H.A. rules are to apply with exception noted on our rules and regulations.

TRI-COUNTY "B" LEAGUE RULES

1. Teams are to use O.M.H.A. game sheets.

2. All O.M.H.A. rules are to apply.

3. Each center is to be responsible for their own referees who should be at least 13 years old. They should be 2 categories above the players playing or a minimum of 3 years older for Midget and Juvenile unless they are carded O.M.H.A. referees in which case they can referee whatever their maximum category is under O.M.H.A.

1. Registration fee of $10.00 per team and player cards are to be in by Dec. 15, 1977.

5. Game sheets are to be given to Contact man and forwarded to the President and postmarked not later than 7 days from the time of the game.

6. All games are to be one hour or longer if ice is available.

7. No "A" goaltender may play for a "B" team.

8. Any player suspended will be for league games only (not exhibition or other games).

9. A days notice, or 3 or 4 hours notice due to severe weather conditions for cancelling games. The coach of the team should be the one notified if possible.

10. Butt-ending, kicking and spearing: 1st offence - 3 game suspension; 2nd offence - 5 game suspension; 3rd offence - removed from league for the rest of the season.

11. Any lower category player in a lower category has to be identified as so on the game sheet and the opposing coach notified.

12. Any "B" goalie playing more than 3 games with an "A" team in case of an injured "A" goalie will have to be reinstated by the league.

13. Any player, coach, manager, or trainer who swears or otherwise uses foul or abusive language or makes obscene or insulting gestures at or about any opponent or official shall be assessed a game misconduct penalty. Such penalty shall result in suspension from the game and suspension for the next game played by his team.

14. No executive member or team manager or coach of any participating team may act as a referee without first getting approval of the President, and in such cases both teams must agree in writing to such an arrangement.

15. Protests:

(a) All protests are to be in writing no later than 48 hours after the starting time of the game in question. Upon receipt of the protest, the President shall contact the protested club who will have 36 hours to file a defense in writing.

(b) For protests of players, the time limit for protesting will be decreased to 24 hours so player will not miss any games if possible, while waiting a decision.

(c) The protest fee shall be $20.00, returnable if protest is successful. The defense fee will be $10.00, returnable if defense is successful.

(d) Protests are to be handled by the executive unless a team from their home center is involved and then members will be appointed by the President.

16. All referees and officials must be treated with courtesy at all times during the entire season by all players and officials of all clubs. Any infraction of this rule will be reported to the President and the executive may assess penalties as the infraction warrants.

17. All major infractions, misconducts and match penalties must be reported within 24 hours to the President. Also the referee is to make a report on the back of the game sheet.

18. If teams are tied for position at end of regular season in points, "goals for" will count; if still tied, "goals against" will count.

19. Failure to comply with these rules could result in the forfeiture of the game involved.

take it with me. But even the government can't destroy our delight in a Canadian fall.

I've been in England, Belgium, Holland and Germany in the autumn. And believe you me, baby, none of them is within 1,000 light years of our wild and glorious October, when the Mad Artist starts throwing the colors on his palette.

I am delighted to have two grandsons, although I would be enchanted with a granddaughter, and have spoken seriously to my daughter about this. And I am deeply grateful that the little one, who went into hospital with meningitis last spring, suffered no lasting effects and is about as sturdy as a Sherman tank.

I am quite thankful that only three of the shutters are missing from my house. Instead of three, they could all have been blown off in those terrible storms last winter. And I expect to have the three back on any year now.

This year, I am thankful to have a Grade Nine class to teach. What a pleasure their bright minds and faces are after coping with the blase apathy of senior students for several years.

The boys are naive and eager. The girls haven't yet decided to become sexpots. They haven't really formed yet the masks they will present to society in a year or so.

In fact, I'm exceedingly thankful to have a job I like. Many, many persons don't have a job at all, or hate the one they're doing.

I can take keen young minds, and within a year or two have them writing and spelling like this: "The squirrel was in the tree leaped onto the fence were he seen several aykorns redly to be ate." It's fascinating, how one can mold young minds.

Another thing to be extremely thankful for is the ability to sleep. My wife has insomnia. A lot of my friends have it. I can lie down after any kind of a hellish day and flake out like an old rubber boot, to rise, fresh and dewey-eyed (no bags, remember), for the next day's fray.

I'm glad I'm not ugly. I am far from handsome, but I don't scare little children. Hell, if I got my teeth capped, dyed my hair and had a face-lift, I could pass for 58, which I will be next June.

I'm thankful that I have a few friends, and doubly thankful that they are all in worse shape than I.

My nose has been broken so often I can't smell a thing. This detracts a little from enjoyment of food. But it also means I can't smell onion breath, whiskey breath, body odor or dead mice between the walls. That's the good old silver lining.

I'm a little resentful that my wife is so young and vibrant. But at the same time, I'm thankful. When I get old and miserable, and start dribbling down my front, I'll have a built-in nurse. Provided she doesn't run off with the mailman. If he isn't on strike.

Finally, I'm sincerely thankful that: our cat has buggered off for greener pastures; my garage hasn't fallen down; my wife tolerates me; and I have nearly finished this column. Thank You, God.

Grandy Road last week. Welcome to town, folks! Also, Leo and Ruth Liscombe and family have moved into the Roy Bowin's house on Lime Street.

Absolutely everybody has a pile of wood beside their house, in their garage, or in their rec room! We are all asked to conserve energy - and we don't need much coaxing with the high price of oil and electricity, but I wonder - will we be blamed for putting people out of work? If we use less oil and less electricity, will that mean these companies need fewer employees? Well, its high time we all were aware that wood is a valuable source of fuel, and now the wood burning stove manufacturers are back in business.

Next Friday is Remembrance Day. Be sure and buy a poppy. No doubt you know someone who gave his life that we could enjoy freedom. Isn't that a great sacrifice for all?

The A.L.M.F. held their missionary meeting at the church on Wed., Nov. 2. Meeting opened with prayer, followed by singing of a number of choruses. The president, Audrey Downes, then handed out slips, each slip having a prayer request. A poem was read and the scripture, the 67th Psalm, by Myrtle Faulkner. A card of thanks for treats sent was received from Cora Lake.

Secretary, Frances Farrow, read the minutes of the last meeting. Minutes were approved on motions of Sheila Lake and Faye Orr.

The quilting of a quilt owned by Jessie Cameron was discussed. Ladies to meet at Jessie's home next week to work on quilt. Jessie Cameron mentioned the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. & Mrs. C.R. Ball of 288 Carlton Street, Toronto. The Ball's were pastors of the church here over 30 years ago. Several who remember the Ball's are sending cards of congratulations.

Each member prayed for the request on the slip of paper passed out at the beginning of the meeting. A discussion regarding our funds and support of our appointed missionaries, the Revest's, in Quebec, and the Heinzie's, in Africa, followed. Sister Cross invited ladies to her home for the December meeting. That will be an exchange of gifts and a Christmas party.

Margaret Powell closed in prayer.

chers and the engineer and separator man got about $6 each. The boss had all his own teams and wagons. There would be nine teams hauling bundles to the machine. There would be six pitchers in the field to load the racks. There were three spike pitchers at the machine, one on each side of the separator, helping the teamster to put off his load and the third spike pitcher cleaned up around the machine and spelled off the other two. There was a weigher on the machine that weighed the grain as it was threshed. They used to expect to thresh over three thousand bushels of wheat and twice that many oats in a day. The weigher never stopped when they were threshing wheat, and when doing oats, they had to tie up the weigher for it could not weight that fast.

The charge for custom threshing was five cents a bushel for oats and ten cents a bushel for wheat and board the men.

As harvest was coming on, the boss asked another man and I if we would do the chores around the barn and work on the machines when needed. He offered us $2.50 straight time and said we would make more money that way. This was right for when it was wet and the other men were not working, our pay went on just the same. We milked the cows in the morning and then went to the threshing machines to work there. Sometimes we would be hauling bundles, helping the tank men or hauling grain. I hauled my first load of wheat that fall to an elevator at Condie. The elevator had no platform scale. The load was dumped down a pit with a hand dump. It was elevated up into the back pit and weighed there. The elevator machinery was run by a gasoline engine. Gas engines were not too reliable in those days. They were new and men did not know how to run them.

Early in the threshing season, the man on the water tank quit the job and from then on I did most of the tanking. At first we had a tank pump to fill the tank. This pump had a habit of losing it's prime, and then you would have to prime it and work with it to get it pumping. By that time the engine would be getting low on water and the engineer would be blowing three whistles to tell the tank man to hurry up with the water.

There is a point jutting out into Boggy Creek on the north side of the bridge where old Number Eleven Hwy. crosses the Boggy Creek. I have been on that point many times working with a bally pump and heard the three whistles for water. As the weather got colder and the water froze over, we stopped using the pump and used a dipper. This was a 10 quart pail with a handle on it as long as a fork handle. I would pick a place in the creek that had a hard bottom and would back the tank into the creek up to the front wheels. Then with a piece of plank in a hind wheel, to make a place to stand on, I would fill the tank with the dipper. This could be done almost as quickly as with the pump. When the ice got strong enough to carry the tank, I backed the tank out on the ice, cut a hole and filled the tank with the dipper. By the time we finished threshing at the end of November, I think I had hauled water out of every hole in both Wascana and Boggy Creeks that was not frozen to the bottom. The boss found the holes for me.

One would not think to see what a polluted mess the Wascana Creek is now, but the Creek was clean in 1911. We used to swim in it and catch fish in it. One evening we got half a bag of fish in a short time. All the neighbors were doing the same. There were a lot of fish taken out of Wascana Creek in 1911.

When it became apparent that there would not be any more threshing, I settled up and went back to Ontario. The boss was very fair. He paid forty dollars a month for the summer and sixty-five dollars a month for all the wet weather in the fall. He sent a man with a horse and cutter to drive me to Regina to catch the train. This was the 28th of November. The boss and I were very good friends from then right up until the time of his death at about 44 years of age from cancer of the liver. While I was working on the farm, father had found work in the city. He worked until June and then took a trip up the homestead. He wanted to put in an appearance because there was always danger that someone would cancel your homestead if they thought you were not doing your homestead duties. These homestead duties consisted of building a livable shack, breaking ten acres of land per year for three years, and living on the place for six months out of each year for three years. Then at the end of the three years you could get your deed or "prove up" as we called it. In the dry districts of the prairies, when you homesteaded, you could pre-empt another quarter section. Your homestead duties were the same but you had to pay so much an acre - I think it was three dollars an acre when you proved up and got your deed.

While in Maple Creek on his way out of the homestead, father met a man named Whitehead who had bought South African script and filed on it in the Sceptre district. He was taking out lumber to build some new buildings and wanted father to go and build them for him. It was the general direction of the homestead, so father went along and built the buildings. Then he went to his own homestead for a few days.

News from Extendicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

This Monday, November 1, Charles Plewman, Ezra Lott, Duncan Bethune and Dr. Anderson celebrated this beautiful weather by a game of outside shuffleboard. Toward the end Charlie Welch replaced Ezra Lott. We played two very enjoyable games.

After our evening meal we had another Hallowe'en to celebrate; the trick or treat kids from the village. And did they come till first we exhausted the popcorn crisp the ladies made in the afternoon, when Charlie had to raid his store for candies and chocolate bars. Little Jason Black was first and exceptionally well fitted out. He was the only one identified. Later in the evening two little girls also well costumed, but not identified, sang "Jesus Loves Me." It is quite a hike for some of the younger ones to come this far, and we determined that they would not come that distance for naught.

Three movies were shown Wednesday afternoon. 1. A pet and very mischievous raccoon with its continuous antics. A squirrel with its extreme agility is quite annoying to ringtail (the raccoon). It seems ringtail is always hungry. 2. A film on the killer whale shows how it manages to project its 15 foot and 5,000 lb. to nose an object 30 feet high. They seem to be quite affectionate and docile as pets. 3. A film that presented the seals in their natural habitat and how quickly it is possible to make them pets. It was a very profitable hour.

Thursday we met again with the Haliburton Senior Citizen's Club at the Dysart Community Centre. As usual we had plenty to eat and afterward played cards until mid-afternoon.

Everyone seems to be interested in the magnificent bloom on our clematis. At present there is only one assembly of blossoms but there are two more fronds definitely setting for bloom and it is possible that nearly all the remaining fronds will bloom and that will be something. It sure is nice to have this lone plant giving us this display.

Charles Rumbelow has been away for a few days visiting friends. All of us like to get away now and then.

Mrs. Hazel Parish has left for a few days visiting friends. Many of us look forward to these visits.

Charles Plewman will be away for a few days.

Mrs. Lola McCall expects to be away a week visiting friends. These visits are getting to be quite popular all at once. However, in every case they are well deserved.

Kinmount Legion News and Views

On Thursday, Nov. 3, several long time members of the Ladies Auxiliary were honored at a reception at the Legion Hall. Members and families attended a social hour, followed by a buffet supper, and then presentations were made by Zone Commander, Phyllis Montemiglio, assisted by Zone Sports Chairman, Nora Tomlinson and Branch President, Lill Platt.

Comrades Verla Young and Gertie McKay were given life membership ins, and Comrades Lila Shaw, Irene Gardiner and Dagmar Simpson were given past presidents' pins. All were warmly thanked for many years of faithful, active service. All were presented with beautiful red roses.

There was a sad note to this happy evening. Thelma Crego was too ill to attend, and the Zone Officers and President went to her home to present her with her award and flowers, together with the good wishes of all her comrades.

Home of the Week

PLAN N° 65-1304
AREA: 1288 sq. ft.
WIDTH: 68 ft. 6 in.

RANCH STYLE BUNGALOW Plan Number: 65-1304:

The low wide ranch style home is ever popular and this three bedroom full basement example will appeal to the family with a love of the outdoors. Its low profile is emphasized by the horizontal siding and sheltered front porch and entrance; and the ranch origin of the design is stressed by the brick veneer, brick chimney and charming shuttered windows.

The rural tone is continued in the layout of the kitchen and breakfast nook and the large rear patio. The dining room connects to the patio via sliding glass doors. These could be installed in the living room and nook, bringing the outdoors indoors!

In keeping with the tone of the interior, all bedrooms may have louvered doors on their closets and all have good natural light. The master has a two piece ensuite bath with window.

The generous living room has a wood-burning fireplace and possible access to the patio through the addition of sliding doors. Its position away from the secondary bedrooms enables disturbance-free entertaining.

The two car garage has access to either the nook, patio, or the main entrance via the sheltered porch. This is a compact home with great visual appeal which allows the budget-conscious family pride of ownership and room for future development.

Plan for design No. 65-1304 may be obtained at a cost of $50 for the first set and $9 for each additional set, plus $4.00 for postage and handling.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs Series #34 featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus 350 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling). To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Address to: Home of the Week, c/o The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.

Kinsmen News

You have until Saturday to purchase your $1.00 draw ticket for the Kinsmen Gun Draw. The draw will be held on Saturday evening at the Legion's Hunters Ball. There will be two draws, one for the Remington rifle and one for the Baikal shotgun.

Last week we welcomed Kin Terry Blair as a new member of the club. Any male over the age of twenty-one, wishing to join a young, active service organization - The Kinsmen Club of Haliburton - show up at our next meeting at the Haliburton Legion on Tuesday, November 16, 1977.

Larry Warden has kindly donated to the Club a set of professionally painted wooden signs, which we shall be erecting, to direct visitors to the Harburn Natural Wells.

The Kinsmen Club of Haliburton is raffling off an enormous Christmas stocking this year to a lucky child of this district. But the tickets on this draw are FREE!!! That's right, FREE!!!

Ballots will be available at Cauldron Pharmacy later this month. The stocking will be displayed there and the draw will take place on the Saturday preceding Christmas, December 17, 1977, at the store. Any child could win this stocking full of games and toys. All he or she has to do is fill out the ballot, "free of charge." One lucky child will win.

As a storekeeper who has one of those yellow Cystic Fibrosis "bubbles" on his counter, I have noticed that it is mainly the children entering my store who relate to the child pictured on the bubble. It's the kids who are filling up those bubbles with their coins! Thank you kids. No matter who wins that stocking, we think you're all terrific!

The theme for the evening at our next meeting will be "Cystic Fibrosis night." Members will hold an auction within the club, and it will be the members themselves who will be donating from their own pockets to Cystic Fibrosis.

Here are some facts on Cystic Fibrosis (or C.F.):

- C.F. is one of the most common serious disorders of Canadian infants and children.

- One in every 1,000 children is born with C.F.

- C.F. claims more victims than Polio ever did at its pre-vaccine worst.

- C.F. hits children in the lungs and in the digestive system. In the lungs, thick gluey mucous clings to the inner walls, reducing the oxygen supply. In the stomach, faulty digestive juices cannot extract the nutrition from the food consumed.

- Ten years ago most C.F. children died before reaching school age. Today, with early diagnosis and expert treatment, many affected youngsters stand a good chance of living beyond their teens.

- Treatment includes: diet supplements; mist tents; postural drainage therapy; breathing exercises; and specific medications to combat infection.

- For most families, C.F. is a staggering drain. The outlay for drugs and equipment may run to $2,000 a year.

The Canadian C.F. Foundation has established 18 C.F. centres and clinics across Canada for treatment, research and training.

We, as Kinsmen, are proud to help fight Cystic Fibrosis and give C.F. children "The Breath of Life," and we thank you on their behalf for your donations and supporting our work.

From Lumberjack

While there he hired a neighbor to break ten acres on the west side of the homestead. Then he went back to Regina.

I will explain what script land was. After the Rebellion of 1885 when the Indians were put on reservations, the Federal Government gave the halfbreeds script of 240 acres each. All they had to do was to pick out what land they wanted and file on it. The government made the mistake of making the script transferable. Immediately land sharks and speculators came and bought the land for next to nothing. I am told that some script changed hands for as little as a bottle of whiskey. The halfbreeds not being farmers or literate, did not realize what they had and let white men get the land away from them for almost nothing.

There was also South African script. This consisted of 320 acres and was given to men who had gone from Canada to fight in the Boer War. They were not farmers either and again the land sharks and speculators jumped in and got most of it for a song. They resold it to men who were looking for land and made a big profit. I believe with both scripts homestead duties had to be done before the deed was issued.

Father worked at the carpentering in Regina until the weather got cold and then went to his homestead. He got a neighbor to help him try to dig a well. They got down 35 feet and then ran out of cribbing. They would have had to go to Maple Creek, a distance of 65 miles, and father did not have any horses. So he quit dragging.

A little water seeped into the hole but not enough to be of any use. Five years later, after the family moved to the homestead, we got a man with a well machine to come and dig a well. They went down 112 feet before they got water. It would have been a long way to dig with a shovel. The water in this well was heavily charged with minerals including some alkali. It would turn a new nail black in a couple of days. It was terrible stuff to wash with, but mother found that if she put a few tablespoons of Gilets Lye in a barrel of water, the minerals would settle to the bottom like a red rust, and she would have good washing water. It was horrible stuff to drink. You almost had to hold your nose to get down the first mouthful. However, we got used to it and it didn't do us any harm.

Father stayed on the homestead until the weather got warm in the spring and then went back to Regina to work at his trade. He was there in the cyclone of July, 1912. Father was boarding in a house on Cornwall Street and he slept in a tent in the yard. He saw the storm coming and went into the house. It was lucky he did, for his tent and all his belongings vanished. The house was badly wrecked but not blown down.

Shortly after that he went to Ontario to get the family ready to move west to the homestead.

330 PERCENT
During the past decade Ontario exports have increased in volume by 330 per cent, states the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism.

Christian Religion is a way of life

The Christian Religion is a way of life - it is the way of love! People will know whether you are a Christian by the kind of life you live. How much you profess matters little if you are still living for "self". The most Christ-like people are selfless; they have not conformed to the way of the world which is "selfish."

God is love, that is today that God is everything that is beautiful, lovely, honest, pure, sacrificial and forgiving. It is extremely difficult for our puny minds to comprehend the majesty of God's love - it is just beyond us. Drummond said, "that love was the greatest thing in the world." The apostle Paul said, "though I give my body to be burned and have not love, it profit me nothing."

The greatest passion in the life of Jesus, the one thing he talked about more than anything else was the establishment of the Kingdom of God; the Kingdom of Heaven; or (in more modern terms) the Kingdom of Love. When we pray, he asks us to pray for "the Kingdom" and that his will might be done on Earth as it is in Heaven. For that is what it is all about.

Now you don't have to die to enter the Kingdom, but you do have to live "the way of love." The Kingdom of God is within you and every one else who lives for others. In the Lord's Prayer, the Master summed it all up when he said, "pray that the Kingdom will come and that His will may be done ON EARTH as it is in Heaven. This is a 'priority' that seems to have been forgotten."

There are many so-called Christians who are lacking in love and brotherliness that we just cannot enter the Kingdom of God. In speaking along these lines the Master said, "This do and live." The penalty for not living for others was to die to the better things of life.

One wonders how different history would be if the Christian Church from the beginning had concentrated on teaching that God was "Love", the Father of all men and all men alike, and that he sent Jesus into the world to reveal the way of love. Instead we built more and more theology and doctrine about lesser matters. In the process we organized hundreds of denominations and sects and all in the name of Him who said, "he had come that we might be one." The fragmentation of the Christian Church is a scandal, so I hope you don't sing in your Church we are not divided, all one body we - for nothing could be further from the truth. The truth is that religion has been one of the greatest decisive forces at work in the world - Ireland, Pakistan, are good modern examples.

That Jesus believed that Religion was a way of life is probably best illustrated in the parable about the Judgment Day, appearing in Matthew, 25th Chapter, Verses 31 to 43 and 46 as follows: "When the Son of Man cometh, he will sit on his glorious throne and separate the sheep from the goats. He will place the sheep on his right hand but the goats at the left. Then the King will say,

"Come O' blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world, for I was hungry and you gave me food; thirsty and you gave me drink; naked and you clothed me; sick and you visited me; etc. Then he will say to them on the left hand, depart from you cursed into eternal fire - I was hungry and you gave me no food; I was thirsty and you gave me no drink, etc. And they will go away into eternal punishment and the righteous into eternal life."

The most significant aspect of the Lord's Prayer is the fact that search as you will you cannot find a single solitary request for purely personal needs. It is OUR Father, not MINE - Give US our daily bread, making the supply of all as important as ours. Forgive US our trespasses - Christ in this prayer is saying, "When you approach me you must first join hands with the rest of mankind."

It would appear that organized Christianity has been mostly concerned about the individual while underestimating the importance of working for the Kingdom of God, or (in other words) the Kingdom of Love. Many of the people that Jesus relegated to those on the left would be considered good Churchmen and religious people. The acid test of Christianity is what we are and what we do: not what we profess. The parable of the Judgment Day should make that pretty clear.

The Kingdom of God is quite meaningless with many Christians. Christian people by the thousands supported the war in Vietnam that killed one way or another over a million natives and 50,000 young Americans. While millions of our fellow men starve, many of us spend around $25.00 for a single longer it can continue before it explodes.

It's not a case of personal salvation over the social Gospel. It is the recognition that God wants us to serve the whole man and to help him live the good life. "I have come," he said, that they might have life and have it more abundantly. What is holiness if it is not wholeness. Completeness and our life in tune with God and the universe.

Despite the fact that the Master spoke about the Kingdom, morning, noon and night. Despite His asking us to pray for the Kingdom in the Lord's prayer. There is not one Christian Denomination or Sect that I know of that includes "working for the Kingdom" in its articles of faith. It is a mystery that I never could understand.

Let me leave a wrong impression, let me say that looking at things from the outside in, I have been greatly impressed with the splendid way the Ministers in this area are working together. MORE POWER TO THEM.

We are indebted to Mrs. Donna Dillon, Secretary of Extending the Kingdom, for copying this article.

OTTAWA and Small Business

Rain On Our Parade

by JIM SMITH

Every cloud, the philosopher said, has a silver lining. Which only goes to show that you should never trust a philosopher, especially one with such limited knowledge of meteorology.

Case in point: the current Canadian industrial decline. We are painfully non-competitive today in international trade circles. Countries like Korea and Taiwan are beating our pants off in everything from textiles to electrical equipment. By anyone's standards, that international cloud is raining on our industrial parade.

Look inside this cloud, however, and you'll find that there is no silver lining. In fact, the interior is gloomier than the exterior. The grim reality of our international position is this: it's going to get worse.

John Bulloch, President of the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, recently travelled to Korea to address an international symposium on small business. While he was in the area, he also visited the Philippines, Hong Kong and Formosa. His findings are disturbing.

Bulloch brings back news of an entire generation of Asian youth that, for the first time, is highly educated. After school, these young people go home to their tiny shacks to watch American-produced television shows, each of those shows bringing American values to a society that is now sufficiently educated to demand the same standard of living for themselves.

To get ahead, these Asian nations must annex some of Canada's jobs. Armed with the most modern equipment, a labour force prepared to work for less than 50c an hour, and no restrictions on how or where to produce, Asia is finding the Western World to be easy pickings. Meanwhile, South America and Africa are coming on hard to compete with Asia.

Ironically, North America is taking its lumps right now because of freely-given aid to developing nations. Ultimately, this assistance could mean the end of our industrial dominance. But we must continue to provide aid or face overwhelming Communist influence and political instability in Asia.

Can we compete with the Asian nations? Probably. But only if we choose to compete only in our areas of expertise rather than fighting the trade battle on their terms. And we won't survive unless we return to a highly developed work ethic.

It takes an unusually highly developed sense of optimism to find a silver lining in that cloud. In reality, every cloud has the same damp, dreary lining. Never forget the words of the one trustworthy philosopher: "It never rains but it pours."

Agricultural News

A number of farmers in the area have corn to sell this fall. The excellent weather of the past 2 weeks has aided harvesting and now most commercial storages are plugged and unable to take any more corn for drying and storage.

An alternative corn storage method is as high moisture corn. This year, there are a number of farmers who have silos and the necessary equipment to store and use high moisture corn. Thus a possible market for corn which is still being harvested is selling it to a neighbor who can handle it as high moisture. If you are dealing in high moisture corn, there are several thumb rules to remember:

moisture corn. These drying charges also vary based on moisture content - again, tables with suggested charges are available from this office.

1. A unit (bushel or metric tonne) of high moisture corn contains less dry matter than an equivalent unit of dry corn. Thus it is worth less money - how much less depends on its moisture content.

2. Since high moisture corn does not have to be dried, the drying charges should be taken off the dry corn price to calculate the value of the high

3. Remember that corn can get too dry to ensile properly as high moisture corn. The recommended moisture limits for grain corn are 25 to 35 per cent, while the limits for high moisture ear corn (the whole cob is ground into the silo) are 25 to 40 per cent. Corn below 25 per cent moisture is very susceptible to spoilage.

trailer parks are not permissive in Galway & Cavendish. We suggest that there is a need to re-write this section, clearly differentiating single mobile homes and trailers versus parks.

1.65.1 - Prefabricated homes should be removed or conversely allowed by Galway & Cavendish.

Page 32 - degree of use of public access points and come after "points".

Page 35 - This section to be re-worded to clearly identify that the hazard lands do not include lands flooded by manual manipulation of water levels existing around any lakeshore.

2.10 - Should be Peterborough City County Health Unit.

Schedule B:

Should be changed. Bottle Creek should not be in proposed park. Carried.

77-442 Moved by MacLellan, seconded by Stuart. That Mr. Russell More's tender dated Sept. 29/77 in the amount of $3,750 for filling the gully on the Beaver Lake Road (Peek a Boo Hill) in accordance with the tender specifications issued, be accepted. Carried.

The meeting was adjourned due to the lateness of the hour (2:30 a.m.) and it was decided that it would reconvene on Wed., Oct. 12/77 at 1:00 p.m.

The special meeting to deal with the remainder of the Oct. 7 agenda was called to order on Wed., Oct. 12 at 1:00 p.m. with the following present: Reeve Brickman, councillors MacLellan and Nokes.

77-443 Moved by Nokes, seconded by MacLellan - That the adoption of the minutes from the meeting of Oct. 7/77 be deferred until the next regular council meeting. Carried.

77-444 Moved by Nokes, seconded by MacLellan - That severance B-239-77 and severance B-240-77 be deferred until the next regular council meeting and that councillor MacLellan inspect the property in the interim and bring back recommendations to council. Carried.
